Long Beach People Aid Orange County In Water Fight

INJUNCTION IS ASKED BY L. B. CITIZEN

Would Enjoin City Against Sale of Bonds to Buy Water Lands in County
PLAN IS OPPOSED

Declares Purchase of Land Would Injure and Damage Public in General

SUPPORT in the campaign by Orange county interests against purchase and development of water bearing lands in Orange county by the city of Long Beach was received today from a group of Long Beach citizens when a complaint was filed in superior court here directed against the city of Long Beach asking a restraining order against the sale of bonds for purchase of lands or further negotiations for the lands.

The injunction suit was filed by Joseph Farnsworth, who describes himself in the complaint as one of the "many property owners and taxpayers in the city of Long Beach and the county of Orange, who is and will be greatly damaged by the conduct of the defendant." It is reported that Farnsworth is connected with a taxpayers' league in the beach city which is said to be opposed to the water development program that has been outlined by the city authorities.

Contracts for the purchase of two tracts of land—one a 75-acre piece in Orange county, a mile in width, and the other a 355-acre strip in Los Angeles county—have been made by the city of Long Beach, which, according to the complaint filed by Farnsworth, was for the purpose of development of additional domestic water supplies. The price for the two tracts was $75,000 for the Orange county property and $111,232 for the acreage in Los Angeles county, a total cost of $186,232.

Farnsworth attacks the values of the land which the city is seeking to purchase, declaring that the taxpayers will not get full value for their money at the rate of $1000 an acre for the Orange county land and $2000 an acre for the Los Angeles county land. He further declares that these are very

ALFRED D. HICKMAN, STAGE STAR, DIES

HOLLYWOOD, April 9.—(UP)—Alfred D. Hickman, 57, prominent on the stage and in motion pictures, died at his home here today after a cerebral hemorrhage.

Nance O'Neill, wife of Hickman and his associate in stage and screen work, was present when the actor died.

By a coincidence, the last stage play in which Hickman and Miss O'Neill appeared together was "Death Takes a Holiday," which ran at the Biltmore theater in Los Angeles.

Hickman was known for his work in England and in the United States. He was born in England, the son of a clergyman, but took to the stage when a young man.

WILL ROGERS says:

MANAGUA (Nicaragua) April 9.—(To the Editor of The Register.) Well here we are at Managua, Nicaragua. They tell you pictures don't lie, but the once you saw of this earthquake did, for they didn't tell that here, eight days after it happened, that there is from one hundred to three hundred bodies still under those ruins.

I am sitting here in a marine tent writing this and am going to sleep here. The doctor is coming around to shoot me for typhoid and then I am going to learn to cuss and will be a real marine.

Naturally what they need is money. The government or the people haven't got a cent. The Red Cross combined with the relief organization here has done great work as usual and still is. They are feeding about 8000. Now we have a great Minister of American Affairs here, Mr. Hanna; no rich guy just appointed for the job, but a man who has given twenty-five years' service to us. Lost everything they had but the clothes on their backs—he and the President of the Red Cross.

MONEY WILL HELP
If through the Red Cross and public donations from up home they could get $250,000, it would relieve the situation as to food and get some roofs to cover these people. Now what they are afraid of is the rainy season, which starts in just a few weeks. Lord help you if you have no cover when it starts.

Goodness knows you generous folks have been asked till you are ragged, but honest, if you saw it you would dig again. I have finally found somebody poorer than a southern cotton renter farmer. Our government can't make the loan for food, at least it wouldn't for our own, so it just falls where everything else does—on the generosity and goodness of the American people. If you saw as I did this morning, 2500 mothers with babies in their arms, go by and get their ration of milk, you would say there was some poor devil that needed it worse than you do.

MARINES OUT BY JUNE
We promised to get the marines out of here by June 1, and if we could get this sum and get things straightened out we can keep our promise, but we can't leave 'em in this shape.

Now, whether you believe the marines should be here or not, they have been a godsend during the last week. They have done some heroic work, but personally I don't think it worth leaving 'em down here just for the sake of another earthquake. We may dig a canal here some day, but we don't have to guard the place. We are going to dig it while we are away.

Send your donations to Managua, Nicaragua, to American Minister Hanna. It's worth all that just to get our boys back home. Two were saved today by a parachute jump patrolling a terrible country. Let's help put 'em on their feet, call it a day and all go home to tend to our own business.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

CITY COUNCIL REJECTS PLEA OF SCHOOL BOARD FOR SITE

CERMAK TAKES UP WINDY CITY MAYOR DUTIES

Will Be Sworn Into Office Late This Afternoon—Cleanup Started

BULLETIN
CHICAGO, April 9.—(UP)—Anton J. Cermak was sworn in as mayor of Chicago shortly before noon today to succeed "Big Bill" Thompson, whom he defeated Tuesday by a majority of 194,267 votes.

The ceremonies in county Judge Edmund Jarecki's offices were simple. Judge Jarecki, head of the board of election commissioners, administered the oath before a crowd that packed the small office to the walls.

CHICAGO, April 9.—(UP)—The change in municipal leadership which Chicagoans decreed by a record shattering vote came about today with amazing swiftness as Mayor-elect Anton J. Cermak moved without ceremony into the city hall where Big Bill Thompson previously had ruled.

It was a great day, and a busy one, for Cermak, marking as it did the climax of his steady rise from immigrant boy and mine worker to the mayorship of the world's fourth largest city.

Leaders in the city's business, professional and church life declared it was as "big" a day for Chicago as it was for Cermak.

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki said one board of election commissioners would announce early the official vote of Tuesday's election, in which Big Bill, "The Old Master," was turned out of office by an unofficial vote of 667,529 to 475,613.

All that remained for Cermak to become mayor in fact after the votes were cast was for them to be counted officially—and never in the history of Chicago was an election canvass completed in such haste.

It was arranged to swear in new aldermen and other elected officials today, then to induct Cermak formally into office at four o'clock this afternoon.

A special meeting of the new council, composed of 30 Democrats and 20 Republicans, was called for that hour so the new mayor could assume active control, have his bond approved, and begin in fact the administrative "cleanup" which he said would elevate Chicago to its "proper place in the world."

The new mayor last night named two of the men he will appoint to his cabinet.

Colonel Albert A. Sprague, he announced, will be commissioner of public works and Francis X. Busch will be corporation counsel, at least for 60 days.

Cermak made it plain he would turn out of office all members of the old Thompson cabinet.

"It is expected," he said, "that all bureau heads will have their resignation in by the time I take office." None failed to take the hint and the "great exodus" left the city hall practically bare.

FEDERAL OIL CONSERVATION PLAN APPROVED

Wilbur Announces States Advisory Committee Is Agreed

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(UP)—Secretary of Interior Wilbur announced today that the federal oil conservation board approved the plan for stabilization of the petroleum industry presented today by the oil states advisory committee.

Wilbur pledged the aid of federal authorities toward bringing the plan to a successful conclusion and urged the oil men to take advantage of every opportunity for furthering the program.

This plan, drawn up by the oil states advisory committee, representing the governors of nine petroleum producing states, constitutes a nation-wide program for bettering "the present dire conditions of chaos and distress existing in the oil industry."

The committee in its report maintained that unless stabilization is shortly achieved the nation will be faced with a petroleum monopoly, and the loss of many millions of dollars in tax revenues to the states and the federal government.

The committee asked the federal government to approve and support three recommendations providing for national oil planning.

Chief among these recommendations was one providing for the passage by each state legislature of laws for "co-ordination of conservation measures."

The committee also recommended the continuance of an advisory body, pending ratification of an effective oil compact, which would function as a "liaison and fact finding body" to present to conservation authorities recommendations for interstate co-operation.

The committee declared that "no individual oil producing state can adequately protect the national interest against . . . conditions of overproduction that now exist." Curtailment must be co-ordinated on a nation-wide scale, the committee maintained.

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—(UP)—A suit for $110,000 damages against Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, John Gilbert, film star, and Frances Marion, scenario writer, instituted by Ida Kuhn and charging plagiarism, was "on file in federal court today."

Miss Kuhn claimed that a story she wrote, "God, Man or Devil," had been submitted to Gilbert for screen use, but returned with the remark that it was not suited to him.

RESIDENT HERE FOR 43 YEARS ANSWERS CALL

Mrs. Ella Mitchell, Suddenly Dies While Attending Lodge Meet

MRS. ELLA MITCHELL, 64, wife of J. W. Mitchell and pioneer citizen of Santa Ana, died suddenly, shortly before 10 o'clock last night, while attending a meeting of the Torosa Rebekah lodge, in the Odd Fellows hall, on North Main street.

Death is believed to have been caused from heart trouble. Mrs. Mitchell did not rise with other members of the lodge when time came to sing the closing song and several persons rushed to her aid. She was dying then and lived only a few moments.

Members of the Santa Ana fire department's inhalator squad were summoned and every effort was made to restore life, without success.

Members of the family said today that Mrs. Mitchell had not been well for several years and for the past several days had been complaining of not feeling her best, but that she had stated yesterday that she was better.

A native of Missouri, she came to Santa Ana in 1888, joining her husband who had come to the coast several months prior to that time. The family have continuously lived here since that time.

Aside from her husband, she is survived by two sons, Charles E. Mitchell, well known Santa Ana business man, and Floyd Mitchell, employee of the Santa Ana post office.

A step-son also survives. He is Roy Mitchell of Ontario. Two brothers also survive her, Frank Holly of Omaha, Neb., and Ed Holly, of Flagler, Colo., and one sister, Mrs. Honor Griffith, of Esbon, Kansas.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow at the Smith and Tuthill funeral parlors, the Rev. W. S. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church here, officiating. The Torosa Rebekah lodge will also have special services, at the same time. Following the funeral the body will be taken to Los Angeles for cremation, it was announced.

ARMY FLIER DELAYS NEW YORK FLIGHT

BURBANK, Calif., April 9.—(UP)—Capt. Ira Eaker, United States army speed pilot, was compelled today to delay his departure on a projected one-stop flight to New York in an attempt to break the west-east record of 12 hours, 25 minutes and 3 seconds set by Capt. Frank Hawks on August 13, 1930.

Unfavorable weather conditions forced the aviator to postpone his departure until 3:30 a. m. tomorrow. It was planned that he hop off this morning but weather reports from the midwest indicated his chance of lowering the record would be lessened if he did so.

Capt. Eaker will use a low-wing Lockheed Altair monoplane for the flight. His craft is capable of 240 miles an hour.

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—(UP)—Harold Lloyd, screen comedian, successfully underwent an operation for chronic appendicitis at the Good Samaritan hospital here today.

Unanimous Objection Recorded

Approval of Plan to Build Jefferson School on First Site Denied

AN OFFICIAL REQUEST of the Santa Ana Board of Education that the Santa Ana city council approve the proposed Jefferson School site at Santa Clara avenue and Flower street, made before the council in official session last night, was flatly refused.

The request was made following a special meeting of the board of education Monday at which time a resolution was adopted asking that the matter again be taken before the city council for its approval.

O. A. Jacobs, attorney, appeared before the board and asked for the approval, as a representative of the Greenleaf interests, owners of the property, but stated that he particularly desired that some action be taken and that the matter not be again referred to the city planning commission, which had heretofore disapproved of the site.

Action was fast in response to Jacobs' talk. Councilman Stanley Goode immediately moved that the request be denied and just as fast, Councilman W. J. Kelly seconded the motion. The vote was unanimously against granting permission to buy the site, with Councilman Bert Sutton not present.

The Board of Education has caused the deal to go into escrow, despite the fact that it was not approved either by the planning commission or the city council. The proposed purchase represents an expenditure of $15,000.

SOUTHLAND IS VICTORIOUS IN DISTRICT FIGHT

Prohibition Forces in Sacramento Win Battle in Committee

SACRAMENTO, April 9.—(UP)—Prohibition, which strutted its hour upon the legislative stage last night, was a dead issue today. Measures repealing the Wright Act, California's enforcement law, and calling for a statewide referendum on prohibition were killed in committee by a vote of 4 to 1.

The reapportionment battle shifted to the assembly, where the two McKinley bills, passed by an overwhelming majority in the senate late yesterday, were placed on the files for early consideration.

The McKinley measures are assured of early passage by the lower house, where San Joaquin valley's delegation has already announced it will join with Southern California in securing adoption of the proposals.

The McKinley congressional measure would give Southern California 11 congressmen, the remaining nine going to the north. These would include eight national representatives for Los Angeles, two for San Francisco, and two for Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

Senator Will R. Sharkey, Martinez, led a bitter assault against the reapportionment plan, receiving only the support of the San Francisco delegation. Sharkey proposed to give only six congressmen to Los Angeles, one additional to San Joaquin valley, and three to San Francisco and San Mateo counties.

He also asked that Contra Costa county be included in the third congressional district, where it now stands.

The McKinley assembly bill gives Los Angeles county 30 assemblymen, San Francisco 9, and Alameda 7. This represents a gain of eight for Los Angeles, a loss of three to San Francisco and one for Alameda.

The senate public morals committee sidestepped the prohibition question after a public hearing at which galaxy of brilliant speakers appeared for and against the two anti-dry law bills.

SPEAKER OF HOUSE DIES EARLY TODAY

Succumbs to Pneumonia After Illness Lasting Over Period of 2 Days
WAS 61 YEARS OLD

Mrs. Longworth Arrives From Washington to Be at Her Husband's Side

A IKEN, S. C., April 9.—(UP)—Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the house of representatives in the 69th, 70th and 71st congresses, died today.

Death came within two days after Longworth's serious illness with pneumonia had become known.

The speaker—a powerful figure in the Republican party and beloved by political friend and foe alike—was stricken while a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Curtis at this winter resort.

"Tuesday night his illness was diagnosed as pneumonia and Mrs. Longworth, 'Princess Alice Roosevelt,' was summoned from Washington.

For a time the doctors were hopeful. But soon their bulletins became increasingly alarming.

At 10:52 a. m. today Dr. Robert H. Wilds, chief of the medical staff attending Longworth came to a window in the Curtis old colonial mansion. He raised his hand in one slow gesture to the waiting newspapermen. It was a signal to the world that the speaker of the United States house of representatives was dead.

Back of the mansion negro stable boys were exercising half a dozen of the Curtis sleek hunting mounts. Brilliant sunshine splashed over the Carolina Hills, flush with the radiance of spring.

Longworth died in the kind of a setting he loved best, amid the elegant of a millionaire's winter home with its flowering magnolias sweeping the windows, where sport and laughter and ease reigned, an epicurean's paradise.

Hour after hour Longworth had inhaled air artificially richened with oxygen. A physician stood almost constantly by his bedside. Within the oxygen tent the labored breathing continued, but at last Longworth was not equal to the strain his illness forced upon him.

Four nurses worked in relays to ease the stricken statesman. From the calm confidence of midday Wednesday the feeling changed rapidly during the evening to anxiety and toward despair. There was brusque notice of the serious turn in Longworth's condition at 9 o'clock last night. Subsequent information added to the gloomy prospect. It became apparent Longworth had small chance of surviving. Two physicians worked over him as day stands.

ESTATE VALUED AT $980,000 LEFT BY SINGER

MELBOURNE, Australia, April 9.—(UP)—A fortune of about $980,000 in bequests left by Dame Nellie Melba, the famous singer, was revealed today in her will, which directed that at least $490,000 of the total should go to America.

The chief beneficiaries were her son, George Armstrong, his wife and son, and her daughter, Pamela, who is 15 years old. The daughter received jewelry which the singer had owned and which were valued at about $68,000.

There's nothing petty about the new petticoats.

broke and still others came to his bedside near the end.

The body will be sent immediately to Cincinnati, the family home, it was learned.

Longworth had been an annual guest of the Curtises, he arrived about April 1, a month after the end of his most strenuous session as speaker. He was suffering from a cold. On April 6 he was ordered to bed and his physicians diagnosed pneumonia.

Longworth was 61 years old and his age was a factor in the rapid progress of the pneumonia condition. The strenuous short and concluding session of the 71st congress this winter imposed a severe strain on Longworth, not only because of his official responsibilities as speaker, but owing to his informal role of conciliator among embattled members of his own party.

Speaker Longworth's death occurred far from the scenes of his political and social triumphs.

His triumphs were those of a personality which cut through the fact that he was a son-in-law of the dynamic Theodore Roosevelt, the husband of a rich man's son, an epicure, fond of sports, an artist on the violin, piano and pipe organ, in appearance a natty clubman type, in taste almost a dilettante—the whole load enough to blight the average political career.

Fought Way Up

Yet he fought his way up in a man's game where the rough and tumble goes to the strongest and quickest. He not only won the speakership but promptly made it again by force of his personality much the same powerful office it was in the days of Reed and Cannon, though without the aid of the old-time rules which made their cardroom easier.

Had Longworth been a more somber character, this achievement would have been most prominently linked with him. But the good fellow in him, the playboy singing, telling stories, playing the organ and the piano in the drawing rooms of Washington, the endless anecdotes—these so fascinated the capital by their contrast with the dull, ignorant, witless run of hack politicians that Longworth probably will have to wait for his historians to fix his rank as a parliamentary figure.

In the elections last November Longworth had his troubles in the first Ohio district and like some other Republican leaders of congress he came through, but without the customary comfortable margin. But his personal popularity constantly increased.

Longworth had behind him as a Cincinnati youth the tradition of wealth. He was graduated from Harvard university, attended Harvard law school for a year and was graduated from the Cincinnati law school in 1894. Four years later he became a member of the Cincinnati school board. He arrived in the United States house of representatives by way of brief service in the Ohio house and senate.

On February 17, 1906, Longworth was married at the White House to Alice Lee Roosevelt, daughter of the president. It was a glamorous occasion for the whole nation. They went honeymooning with the good wishes of a nation among their gifts, which included costly trinkets from crowned heads the world over. Since that day they have been "Nick and Alice" to the American people and they were a combination which figured largely in the life of the nation and the capital.

Persons who met him for the first time often to their delight and amazement were listening before the end of the evening to the speaker's classical piano repertoire, or more amazing perhaps, to his vocal rendition of "Down Where the Wurzbarger Flows".

Early in his congressional career Longworth formed that unique friendship with the man who is now leader of the democratic side in the house and who will be speaker if the democrats take control, Representative John N. Garner of Texas, an old fashioned, blunt spoken, rough cornered plainsman, as complete a contrast with Longworth in his careless personal appearance and background as could be found in the house.

Their joking about the automobile furnished the speaker has become a classic. Garner, because of the even division of the house, has called it "our car". In fact he rode in it about as much as Longworth because they were together so much.

He made politics his life work, and starting as a precinct worker in Cincinnati, he rose to the speakership of the house of representatives—a place held by many to be the second most powerful in the federal government.

Longworth was a stalwart regular Republican. He refused to leave his party even in 1912, when his long-time political leader and father-in-law, Theodore Roosevelt, bolted the party.

His service in the house dated from 1903 straight through to the end, with the exception of two years following the 1912 election. He served three two-year terms as speaker, starting in 1925 and was unanimously nominated by a Republican house conference in February as his party's candidate to succeed himself in the 72nd congress meeting in December.

Born Nov. 5, 1869, of a wealthy old family in Cincinnati, he was educated in Harvard, receiving an A. B. and taking a law course there and receiving his law degree from Cincinnati law school in 1894. He was admitted to the bar the same year. He joined a precinct Republican club, and marched in torchlight parades. One of his favorite stories was that in one of them he complained to a graybeard marching-mate that he couldn't even hear the band. "I've been marching in these parades for 20 years, and I never have heard the band, young fellow," was the reply.

But Longworth heard the band. He headed the parade, on legislative matters, for nearly a decade.

He was named to the board of education in Cincinnati in 1898. The next year he was elected to the Ohio house, and two years later to the state senate. In 1902 he was elected to the house of representatives from the first Ohio district.

In the capital, his affable personality made him at once a popular figure. He was entertained at the White House by his party leader, President Roosevelt, and there he met Alice Lee Roosevelt, the president's daughter, a girl whose escapades excited and amused "Paucity Alice" and they were married in the White House, February 17, 1906, in a magnificent formal wedding which set nearly all the nation to talking.

During his years as a congressman in the rank and file, Longworth was a leader in legislation, working mostly in committee rather than in debates on the floor. He was particularly active in advocating preparedness of the Rooseveltian variety, and he has been known as a "big navy" man. He was active in urging high tariffs on dyes in the pre-war days, in an effort to make this nation independent of the German dye industry.

Longworth established himself in a beautiful white house on Massachusetts avenue here, and he and "Alice" as his wife was known to everyone in Washington, became leaders in capital society life. Nevertheless, he enjoyed the quiet pleasures of playing his violin and even composing music at times, and through study of precedents became one of the leading parliamentary law authorities of his party.

His knowledge of house rules and parliamentary law helped him when the Republicans came in power, and he was named party floor leader in 1923. Two years later, he was elected speaker.

Longworth believed that in addition to presiding over the house, the speaker should take part in its work, and he practiced his belief. In conjunction with the Republican floor leader, John Q. Tilson of Connecticut and the rules committee chairman, Bertrand H. Snell of New York, he formulated and helped to put through many party plans.

Usually he worked closely with the White House, but in recent months he opposed the president's policies, but only when he was convinced that the majority of the Republican house members were against the president. The leading instance was the World War veterans loan bill, passed by both houses over Mr. Hoover's veto.

On rare occasions, he left the speaker's chair to address the house in person, once in support of a navy bill, again in support of veterans legislation.

He was genial and affable in private contacts, but dignified in the speaker's chair.

Longworth was known as one of the best dressed men in public life.

Oakland Man In Airplane Trip To Give Father Blood

LINCOLN, Neb., April 9.—(UP)—Coming all the way from Oakland, Calif., by airplane to give a pint of blood to his father, William Stuve Jr., probably saved the life of his father, William, Stuve Sr., of Sterling, doctors said yesterday, reporting on the latter's condition at a hospital here.

Stuve Sr., was operated on last week. His physician declared it necessary that he have a blood transfusion. William Jr., when informed that his father needed blood, boarded his plane for Lincoln.

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—(UP)—The sheriff's office here was asked today to aid in the search for Frank C. Martin, 26, said to be an oil truck driver, whose father lies near death in the San Luis Obispo General hospital.

CANDIDATES TO SCHOOL BOARD OPPOSE LEAGUE

Declaring their names were placed on the "ticket" of school board candidates yesterday by the Good Government and Economy League, without their knowledge or consent, Rolla R. Hays and Marion B. Youel today issued statements disclaiming any connection between themselves and the league or the views expressed by it in its recent attacks upon the present school board.

In his statement Hays said: "I want it understood that the league's endorsement must not be taken as in any way committing me to the views expressed by the league in a recent attack on the present school board."

Youel said in his statement: "The endorsement of the league without my knowledge and without my consent. I was not consulted in the matter and I am in no way committed to its views."

Youel also pointed out that his name resembles that of another man who for a time was mentioned as a possible candidate. He pointed out that he has lived here since 1915 and resides on East Seventeenth street. In addition to orange growing there, he is in the insurance business.

He pointed out that he entered the race as an independent candidate. Hays said the league endorsement might result in citizens believing anyone endorsed by the league holds the views expressed by it. He declared that he is in no way connected with the league.

unreasonable prices and that land equally as valuable for water purposes can be obtained at from $800 to $1000 an acre.

The complaint goes on to state that if the defendant is allowed to purchase the said land through the sale of the bonds, it will use it "for no purpose whatsoever, or will attempt to take water from under same in an attempt to deplete the water supply of a purported underground basin from which domestic and irrigation water is obtained by Santa Ana, Anaheim, Fullerton, Placentia, Orange, Tustin, Buena Park, Huntington Beach and Laguna Beach," or will attempt to use a portion of the land for park and playground purposes and that it would be worth less than $800 for "any of the aforesaid purposes." The only other use to which the land could be put, according to the plaintiff, is for a dump ground, as which it would not be worth to exceed $50 an acre.

Use of this land for any of these purposes will greatly injure and damage the plaintiff and the general public, it is claimed.

Farnsworth seeks an injunction to prevent the sale of $800,000 worth of Long Beach water works improvement bonds on April 14, as advertised on March 21, 1931, which bonds were part of an issue of $2,378,000, authorized in an election held on March 9, 1931. He alleges these bonds are intended for the purpose of paying for the lands sought to be purchased, and asks that the court further restrain the city of Long Beach from paying the $786,232 for the two tracts and from further negotiating for the said lands.

The plaintiff asserts that the bonds were voted for water works improvement for the city of Long Beach and not for the purpose of purchasing lands in Orange and Los Angeles counties and that the voters did not intend them to be used for that purpose and in fact did reject a bond issue in 1930 "which was intended for the same purpose for which defendant is about to use the bonds voted in 1927—and if the said bonds are so used it will be to the great injury and damage of the plaintiff and the public in general."

Omer R. Young, Long Beach attorney, is representing Farnsworth in the legal action, and the complaint asks that plaintiff be awarded costs and $10,000 attorney fees. Action of the beach city in attempting to purchase the Orange county land for water development has been opposed by many county organizations, including the board of supervisors, which recently adopted a resolution protesting against this move on the part of Long Beach. Suit was threatened by the Santa Ana River Basin Water Protective association, which was organized for the purpose of guarding the underground basin from exploitation by persons or corporations outside the basin.

LOCAL POST TO WELCOME 'BUD' GEARHART HERE

"Bud" Gearhart, department commander of the American Legion, arrived in Santa Ana today to participate in special meeting to be held in the Legion hall tonight, it was announced today by Hunter Leach, commander of the Santa Ana post. Increasing the membership of the post will be the main subject of discussion at the meeting.

In speaking of membership in the Legion, Art Eklund, membership chairman stated:

"Membership is the principal foundation of our organization. Without it we cannot hope to carry out the aims and purposes for which we stand. Membership in the American Legion is a privilege which cannot be purchased. It is the heritage of the World War veteran. The Legion needs the support of every veteran to better support our program of continued service."

The board of supervisors, city officials and candidates for city office have been invited to attend the meeting tonight and listen to Gearhart.

Gearhart recently has been approached to run for United States congressman. According to reports, he has decided not to run at the present time.

TAXES WILL BE DELINQUENT ON APRIL 20 HERE

Approximately $2,000,000 remains to be collected between now and April 20, the date the second installment of taxes becomes delinquent, it was revealed today by County Tax Collector John Lamb.

There was a total of $6,857,275.83 on the collection rolls at the beginning of the tax year, but 60 per cent was collected by December 5, the final date for payment of the first installment.

Some taxpayers are now taking advantage of the opportunity to make payments before the heavy rush sets in, Collector Lamb said, but there has not been any rush up to the present time, and the regular office force has been adequate to handle the payments. Other workers will be added to the force as necessary. A heavy mail is anticipated beginning with next Monday, Lamb advised.

The county official called attention to the advisability of making out checks at the home or office rather than waiting to make them out in his office. There is less likelihood of making errors in this way, he said. He also advised taxpayers in connection with remittances made by mail to be sure that the checks are signed, that they are drawn on the proper banks and that some description of the property accompanies them. "Street numbers will not do to describe property," he said. "It must be the legal description or references should be made to the number on the tax bill or receipt."

"Tax remittances must be mailed so that they will be in my office the last day, April 20. It is not enough to mail them that day."

A penalty of five per cent attaches to delinquent taxes unpaid on April 20.

CRANSTON ANSWERS HORTON; NOT CANDIDATE TO SUCCEED SELF UNDER ANY CONDITION

J. A. Cranston, superintendent of schools in Santa Ana, today replied to a statement made yesterday by Dr. Roy Horton, member of the board of education and reiterated his declaration that under no conditions is he or will be a candidate to succeed himself in his present post.

"I dislike newspaper controversy," Cranston said. "I am not a candidate to succeed myself under any conditions whatsoever. I am not a candidate to succeed myself under any conditions whatsoever."

"Over two years ago when the matter of a building program came up for discussion in our board meeting I recommended that we increase the size of each elementary school building to a 12-room unit as the need seemed to warrant. This would be quite an ideal condition because it would provide one room for each class, there being 12 classes in the six grades below the junior high school and the cost would be more economical than the cost of erection of separate buildings and the purchase of separate school sites or grounds. This plan was unanimously approved by our board of education."

"Later the board decided to have a school survey to determine our needs as to location of new sites, new buildings and additions to the existing school buildings. I approved the survey. A scientific survey was made and the results printed. The survey showed an overlapping of some of the then existing school districts. That means that some of the elementary schools were too close together, for economical purposes as well as for a strong educational program. In other words, small schools are expensive from a financial and educational point of view."

"In defense of former school boards in the matter of the location of school sites and erection of school buildings it should be said that the location of school sites was largely determined by the then available grounds and needs of the schools."

"As I stated in my article of April 4 and gave reasons for it and the minutes of the board will affirm this, that I was opposed to more elementary schools. I was in favor of additions to the then existing elementary school buildings and the purchase of additional land to some present school grounds. I therefore was in favor of calling for school bonds and tried to do my part in carrying the bonds."

"My reason for bringing this matter to the attention of the public at this time is because I have been criticized with the board for the unsatisfactory school conditions at Jefferson and Hoover, due to a small attendance which of course was due to dividing the attendance at Lincoln between Lincoln and Hoover, and to dividing the attendance at Jefferson between Jefferson and Wilson. I felt that such economical and educational blunders should rest with those who are responsible for them."

"In regard to the sincerity of my statement that I would not be a candidate to succeed myself. I believe those with whom I have come in contact and with whom I have associated for the past 25 years will accept my statement at its full value. Therefore, I wish to restate that I am not and will not be a candidate to succeed myself under any conditions whatsoever."

5 Trains Serve Spanish Village

SAN CLEMENTE, April 8.—Five trains now serve San Clemente on the Santa Fe system, according to announcement of Mrs. E. M. Sands, agent. Train No. 76 will now stop at San Clemente at 7:45 o'clock in the evening, making it possible for Spanish village citizens to take a morning train to the city, returning the same evening.

SPANISH WAR VETS SEEK A PROPAGANDIST

Resolutions were passed by Camp No. 26, of the Spanish War Veterans, of Santa Ana and vicinity, Tuesday evening, asking that the Department Encampment authorize the appointment of a Department Publicity Editor to send out weekly articles on national and department matters that would be suitable to be inserted in the local newspapers by the commanders of the various camps in the Department of California.

These resolutions are the work of Commander Warren R. DuBois, who is also the Department Patriotic Instructor, aided by one of the members of his staff. Also one recruit was elected to membership, delegates and alternates were elected to represent Camp No. 26, and the Department Encampment, one member transferred to Warwick Camp No. 100, of Fullerton, a committee appointed for the next Potluch dinner and last but far from least was the offer, thankfully accepted, of Harrell and Brown's funeral home, to transport any member of the Camp to Sawtelle or other hospital of no greater distance from Santa Ana.

The Adjutant will forward the resolutions passed to the Department Commander within the next few days.

Delegates Selected

The recruit elected was Dr. James C. Crawford, of Orange; the seven delegates elected were: Comrades Alfred F. Moulton, Forrest Gay, A. H. Hammond, Charlie A. Lindquist, G. Vernon Area, Wm. Brown, and Carl J. Christenson; the alternates elected were: Bert Deck, Hanigan Moberly, Chas. H. Camm and Albert H. Hall; the member transferred to Warwick Camp was Comrade James O. Householder, of Anaheim; and the Potluch dinner committee appointed were the following Comrades: Milton R. Kellogg, David W. Shuford, Geo. V. Area, Carl J. Christenson and Jack Hess.

All of the Comrades of the Camp are exceedingly grateful to Harrell and Brown for their splendid offer and while it is sincerely hoped that advantage will not often be taken, it will be an excellent thing for the needy Comrade who has to go to the National Soldiers Home Hospital, at Sawtelle, and who has to be transported in an ambulance.

DRILLS ARE TO BE FEATURE OF LOCAL CIRCUS

Massed drills and games will enter largely into the program of the Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium Circus which is to be presented on Thursday and Friday evenings of next week.

The classes for boys in the gymnasium have been conducted during the winter on the line of special interests, and one result is seen in the number of boys who have been trained to do excellent work in their chosen line of activity.

Considerable attention has been devoted to marching and group evolutions, and some of the eccentric and characteristic drills to be presented in the show will feature this sort of work. As always, there is a fine tumbling squad, and a group of skilled performers on the apparatus.

Pyramid building in some unique and spectacular lines will be presented by a large company of men and boys.

The seventh anniversary idea will be featured in many parts of the program. This circus is the seventh performance of the sort presented in so many years under the direction of R. R. Russick, who has had charge of the Y. M. C. A. physical education program since the opening of the building. He frankly admits that this year's circus may not be very much better than some that he has presented in the past, because some of those have been very good, indeed, but he maintains that this show is going to be a good one, and that those who attend will have a full portion of entertainment as well as information.

EFFORTS TO RELIEVE SANTA ANA EMPLOYMENT SITUATION IN RECENT MONTHS OUTLINED

The question of unemployment in Santa Ana has been a serious one. The city council, the board of education, the Chamber of Commerce, various individuals and business enterprises have contributed efforts to improve the condition.

Some concerns, like the Irvine company, have launched contemplated projects earlier than they were scheduled in order to aid in the solution of the problem. Some of these efforts have been of such a nature that they were felt in the surrounding cities as well as in Santa Ana.

The campaign of the city council for relief of unemployment began with registration of citizens who had lived here six months or more and who were without work. This action came after an effort had been made by various civic leaders to launch a county wide program of registration and unemployment relief.

Registration of unemployed under the city's program began on December 6, 1930, a free employment bureau having been opened preceding day in offices at 113 North Main street.

There are registered at that office today 1000 persons. This number includes 150 women. On the average five odd jobs a day are filled through the employment bureau, answering requests from residents of the city who need work. At various times the employment bureau has broadcast appeals to the citizens explaining the situation and urging that every effort be made by individuals to provide some work for those who had none.

Working for the city today on a part time basis are 250 men. They work on the basis of three days employment each week. This number includes 120 men put to work at the Olive street bowl, where they are enlarging the area of the bowl. Each man is given three days work a week.

Another project was launched last week in which work for about 20 men for two weeks on a three day basis was provided in clearing weeds from parkings.

Approximately 500 odd jobs of gardening, painting and carpenter work have been provided through the bureau. Out of this number 15 permanent jobs as house keepers were found.

Through co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce committee on unemployment with a number of Santa Ana men, a fund of $750 was made available to aid in unemployment relief. Men who were able to get the use of, or who owned vacant lots, were provided through this fund with vegetable seed to sow on this land. They were given five dollars each to pay for the seed and for the labor of preparing the ground. The men for this project were selected through the employment bureau. To date a total of 80 gardens have been started.

The Irvine company already has completed the Peters canyon dam, on which from 22 to 60 men were given employment. Not all of these men were from Santa Ana, but Orange county as a whole supplied a portion of the men on this project. Five local men were busy throughout the job and at various times as many as 35 or 40 local men were busy on the project.

The Santiago canyon dam, built through co-operation of the Irvine company, the John T. Carpenter Water company and the Serrano Irrigation company, is now employing about 45 men, about two-thirds of whom are Orange county men. Later this crew probably will be doubled. The job will last 10 months. The date for this work also was advanced to aid in the job problem.

The board of education in Santa Ana recently set aside a fund of $750 for work on school properties, which has been providing jobs for a number of men. Twenty-three men have been employed for a total of 1510 hours. Most of the work accomplished by this fund has been completed and there remains about $115 in the fund to complete it.

At the outset of the city council's campaign to relieve unemployment in December, that body immediately employed 40 men who worked cutting eucalyptus wood on the city dump property into fire-place lengths. The men worked in crews of 20 men each, each crew working three days a week.

After the holiday season there was a scarcity of odd jobs coming in to the office and the council ordered the improvement and repair of a number of streets, employing about 80 men on a part time basis. The county of Orange also has provided work for 60 to 70 Santa Ana men at various times.

COUNCIL ACTS TO INCREASE SHOW LICENSE

First reading of an ordinance intended to supplant the present license ordinance for shows and carnivals operating in Santa Ana, was made by the city council last night and referred to the City Attorney for drawing.

The new ordinance would almost double the amount of license demanded from carnivals, and probably would keep many of the smaller shows from coming to the city, in the opinion of members of the council.

The plan is to charge each attraction at a carnival approximately $25 in addition to the regular fee charged shows of this nature. The ordinance is copied from an ordinance of a similar nature now in force in Bakersfield, it was said. The ordinance when prepared will be ready for adoption next week.

MACON, Ga., April 9.—Manager Robinson planned another shakeup in the Brooklyn batting order today in an effort to see if he could shake Babe Herman out of his batting slump. # To the Voters of Santa Ana:

Today we would like to call your attention to what your trustees have done in respect to the big humanitarian problem that is upon us in the city by reason of the men and women who are out of employment.

In bringing before you our record, we would not for a moment attempt to suggest that we have done any different or any better in respect to this unemployment situation than any men of business acumen and a feeling of sympathy and a realization of responsibility would do under similar circumstances at all. But we do insist that we have given this the business direction and human touch that is needed for just such a situation.

There have been registered approximately 850 men and 150 women. This means a total of 1000 in all, whom we want you to know are residents of Santa Ana. These are not the travelers or the hoboes who come into the city for a meal or for a night. These are 1000 men and women, citizens of our city, all of whom in normal times are a financial asset to the city.

Since we have gotten under way in this department we have arranged to take care of and have taken care of 250 men a week, arranging for them to have three days' work at $4.00 per day. Besides this number there have been about 50 men whom we have taken care of in part until such time as through the efforts of our department or efforts of their own, have succeeded in finding more or less permanent employment to relieve us of their care.

This makes 300 families that have been looked after, if not adequately for the luxuries or hardly for the comforts of life, but for the desperate needs of food, which in all cases was urgent and in some cases appalling. Besides this, we have conducted the department for odd jobs, taking work of any character that men could perform. In some of these cases these position were for a few hours and some for a longer period of time. They have averaged, however, five odd jobs a day.

This work consisted of garden work, painting, carpentry, etc. This totaled in the aggregate, actually 500 jobs and it runs naturally into hundreds of dollars that we have thus been able to get into the pockets of the needy from those who desire some form of service. We have had, besides this, 270 jobs for women, and out of this number 15 are in permanent housekeeping positions. Four of the 15 have been given permanent jobs at the Orange county hospital.

Another part of this same work, for which we should receive no credit whatever, but we feel should be stated, that you may have a complete comprehension of the facts, is that there has been a garden plan, under the provisions of which out of a fund of $750.00 which was given by the business men of the city, there has been conducted the scheme of having men who have vacant lots make gardens. The man has been given the seed and has been paid $5 for his labor upon his own lot. Eighty-four men have availed themselves of this opportunity, and the vegetables now growing in their gardens are supplying food for them as well as in some cases even a little money from the sale of their garden truck.

Do not misunderstand us. You people are the ones that did this work. That is, you have made it possible. We simply have been your trustees in the undertaking. We have used your money for the payment of these men. They have been employed upon city work or work in some cases that we have created, much of which will be beneficial, a portion of which was in the cutting of wood to be sold, and a great deal of which we still have on hand. This money from the wood will finally be returned to the city treasury, and in the other cases the service has been rendered and the work done.

We know that those who consider everything from the standpoint of their personal expenditure and of their tax might say: "Let these people walk the streets and go hungry and keep that money in the treasury of the city." Folks, we do not believe that you belong, as a group, to that class. If you want that kind of thing done, and you belong to a group that believe that way, you will have to vote for somebody else that is running. We will not do that thing.

(Signed) CITY COUNCIL:

F. L. PURINTON, STANLEY E. GOODE, J. L. McBRIDE,
W. J. KELLY, B. O. SUTTON.

A Word to the Voters:

NEW OFFICERS OF DISABLED VETERANS' UNIT, AUXILIARY INSTALLED AT MEETING HERE

Over one hundred members of the Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, and some 50 Auxiliary members, witnessed the unique ceremony of joint installation of officers of the chapter and Auxiliary last night. Initiation of the largest class of recruits ever to be taken in at one time was another feature of a veterans' gathering at the American Legion hall, here, last night.

Harry S. Pickard was installed as commander of the chapter to succeed H. O. Rasmussen, whose term was climaxed at this meeting when a record attendance of members and friends were present to witness the ceremonies. Pickard stated he would endeavor to maintain the pace set by his predecessors and solicited the cooperation of every officer and member to successfully realize this ambition.

David R. Day, of Fullerton, as senior vice commander, B. L. Chittenden, Tustin, as junior vice commander, and Frank Wolters, state executive committee member, were inducted into their respective offices and all pledged their unqualified support to the new commander.

The installation was under the chairmanship of William Conley, commander of the Los Angeles chapter No. 5, D. A. V., and the of Eastern Star; Santa Ana Chapter No. 289, O. E. S.; Santa Ana Assembly, No. 61, S. O. O. B.; and Santa Ana Chapter, Order of De Molay.

The new temple is three stories in height in modified Gothic architecture. Part of the ground floor will be given over to business uses. Among the strictly fraternal quarters provided are: Three lodge rooms, one of them large size with a stage; a ball room with complete kitchen equipment, social lobbies, dining room, ladies parlor, secretaries offices and storage and locker space for the various organizations. It has been stated by those familiar with Masonic structures that the new temple in Santa Ana will be one of the most complete and best arranged in the entire state.

Candidate for SCHOOL BOARD

I realize that I cannot see but a small percentage of the voters so I want to enunciate what to me are the most important issues in this school board election:

1. A definite program of business efficiency, including an audit to determine how to get the most out of the expenditure of our tax dollar.
2. The selection of a Superintendent of Schools.
3. A thorough organization of personnel; placing the responsibility of scholastic ratings of pupils upon the Supt. of Schools; the business management, care of buildings, etc., to be assigned to the Business Manager. These two men to be directly responsible to the Board, and the Board only. With this definite understanding, there is no reason for internal strife.
4. An earnest desire to plan the school districts, so that each school will take care of all the children in its immediate vicinity, and not permit the crowding of one school at the expense of another.
5. We must lower school expenditures wherever possible.

I am aligned with no political clique or group, and will, if elected, be in a position to act upon every issue without the slightest trace of prejudice, and will be governed by facts only.

What makes the perfect OATMEAL?

Go to the harvest fields. Select only the finest plump oats. Place the oats in pans over live coals in a great brick oven. Roast the oats, turning them slowly. Continue the roasting until the fat of each rich grain is released and seeps all through the kernel, building up the flavor of this hearty, earthy cereal.

Next remove the outer husks and choose only the most buxom of the kernels. Then steam-cook them, breaking open the starch cells, the proteins, the mineral salts . . . treasures of nutrition. Roll into thin flakes to make more tender and delicious.

At last you have the perfect oatmeal. H-O Oatmeal. No other oatmeal is or can be prepared by this exacting H-O process. That accounts for the unique nutty FLAVOR and the firm, delicate TEXTURE of H-O. And, moreover, New Style H-O is the quickest hot breakfast. Cooks in a to 3 minutes.

BROADCASTS BY CHURCH LAUDED BY LISTENERS

Listeners throughout Orange county and from adjoining areas have tuned in on the daily broadcasts over KREG presented by the Church of the Nazarene. Many new listeners have been added to the KREG family through the broadcasts, it is indicated by the many letters of commendation which have been received.

According to the Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor of the Santa Ana church, which is sponsoring the broadcasts, letters and telephone calls have come from persons in Long Beach, Whittier, Pasadena, Fullerton, Costa Mesa, Midway City, Orange, Placentia, Downey, Brea, La Habra, Tustin and Santa Ana.

"In many places groups of people have gathered regularly in homes to hear the broadcasts," the Rev. Mr. Harding said.

At a recent service in the Santa Ana church, with an attendance of approximately 500 persons, the pastor asked for a show of hands by those who were listening to the daily broadcasts. At least 250 persons signified that they were doing so.

Practically every letter received had included a definite request for songs. Many have commended the broadcasts of services from the church by remote control.

Following are excerpts from letters received:

ters received:

"Your program surely is very beautiful and helpful. Just starts the day right."—Mrs. Carter, Anaheim.

"Program coming in fine and clear. Enjoying each one so much. Surely is inspiring."—Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Anderson, Long Beach.

"I have just listened to your wonderful program over station KREG. It came in clear."—Mrs. W. B. Sadler, Corona.

"I certainly am enjoying the programs put on by your church and hope that you can continue. It seems so good to tune in on Christian music and messages."—Mrs. J. A. Wesley Smith, Garden Grove.

"I liked the music very much. Good singing—very sweet and clear."—Mrs. W. W. Prichard, Anaheim.

"I have had so much pleasure from your 9:30 to 10 a. m. program over KREG, and will surely be sorry when the service are over. Wish you could have an hour each day."—Mrs. Burdick, Santa Ana.

"Surely have been enjoying your programs over the air each morning at 9:30. We have been delighted with the 'Songs of Yesterday.' ... I wish you had a full hour to put on these good programs as the half hour passes too quickly."—Bern Buelke, Downey.

"I really enjoyed the radio program this morning, and wish that more such programs would be put on."—Myrtle Hilton, Orange.

"Words can't express the joy I have received out of the morning programs. Wish they were longer."—Mrs. Bruce Echols, Santa Ana.

"I certainly enjoy your lovely program of sacred music and short sermon. Hope you will continue."—Mrs. W. H. Musser, Anaheim.

"We enjoy your radio program very much and wish that they might be continued longer."—Alice Brownmiller, Garden Grove.

Getting Tired of the Cost and Mess of Having the House Painted So Often?

Why doesn't someone make paint that will stick long enough to be friendly?

Well, neighbor, YOU pick your own friends . . . and if you pick them because they are "all show and no stick"—then don't expect much!

Man! You'll open your eyes if you ever get a peek at the chart of COMPARATIVE COSTS BETWEEN CHEAP-PRICE-PER-GALLON paint and quality paint! Think of buying cheap paint for over $1.00 per gallon less than quality paint yet saving less than $4 on painting your house! Then . . . think of the cheap paint costing you $283 more on a five-year basis than a quality paint such as Patton's Sun-Proof! See the Patton's Sun-Proof paint chart and know the HIGH price of CHEAP paint.

End Piles Quick

No Salves—No Cutting

Your itching, bleeding, protruding piles will go when you actually remove the cause—bad blood circulation in the weak, flabby parts—and not one minute before. Salves or cutting can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record right in this city that McCoy Drug Co. says one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your Pile agony or money back.—Adv.

2. Economy Consistent with Maximum Protection

4. Co-operation with All Law Enforcement Agencies

Complete working harmony with sheriff's office, state and federal officers.

Upon this platform which I promise, if elected, to fulfill to the best of my ability, I solicit your vote in Monday's election.

(Signed) FLOYD W. HOWARD

Floyd W. Howard, candidate for City Marshal (Chief of Police), seeks your support and your vote next Monday, not for himself as an individual alone, but to the end that the office itself, which is more important, may be made one of which Santa Ana may well be proud; that the police force may be built into one of such a standard that other cities may profit by adopting as a pattern. This we know to be his ambition if you honor him with the office and a trial.

If elected Howard will be Chief of Police of this city in FACT as well as name; he will have no strings attached, no political debts to pay. Under obligations to no man, or group of men, he will conduct his office independently, fearlessly, honestly to the very best interest of the city as a whole without fear or favor. We sincerely believe that a vote for Mr. Howard is a step forward and one you will never have cause to regret.

Do not be misled by the menace of whispered slanders if any such exist, and they are usually present in all campaigns, and for which the candidates themselves are not responsible. They are unfair, cowardly, and deserve no attention whatever from either side.

Howard's motto is a clean, fair campaign based solely upon the merits of legitimate issues.

CAPISTRANO PLANS MARATHON EVENTS

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, April 8.—A meeting was held this week of the committee appointed by President Ralph Whitaker to plan for the third annual marathon, to be held in San Juan Capistrano on the Fourth of July. Acting on this committee are F. Kelly, John Forster, John Malcom, Norman Botger and W. A. Coad. The marathon will feature the eight-mile marathon race and the 440 relay, and in addition a novel entertainment is being arranged, which will call for the revival of old Spanish horsemanship, stunts on horseback and trick riding.

The events will be held in Capistrano Acres. Plenty of parking room will enable onlookers to see all that takes place. All the old Spanish feats of horsemanship will be revived, with the exception of bulldozing. Legion post No. 358 has offered the use of the Legion hall for two dances, which will be held to help finance the marathon events. Following the celebration during the day, a big dance will be held in the evening, and there will be a display of fireworks.

SMELTZER

SMELTZER, April 9.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. David Holsclaw was the scene of a family gathering recently, when relatives gave a shower for Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Beager, of Artesia, whose marriage was a recent event. The bride was before her marriage Miss Laura Nelson, daughter of Mrs. Viva Hell Cossett, of Santa Ana, and adding to other pleasant features of the affair was the fact that the home where the shower was held was the girlhood home of her mother and had not been occupied by members of the Hell family until but recently, when Mr. and Mrs. Holsclaw decided to make it their home.

"Cootie" was the entertainment provided and children of the party cleverly presented the many gifts which were included in the miscellaneous shower given the newly married couple. Refreshments included angel food and sunshine cake and punch and the decorative features were carried out in yellow at the small tables where the refreshments were served.

HOW TO END CONSTIPATION

If you want to get rid of constipation for good, you must cleanse the liver of its stored-up bile, and set it to working right. Remember it's a torpid, lazy liver clogged with bile that keeps you constipated. This surplus bile poisons your whole system, causing headaches, bad breath, sallow skin, sour stomach, gas, indigestion, dizzy spells or other disagreeable symptoms.

All that any ordinary physic does is to force a bowel movement without getting at the liver. What you really need is a thorough internal cleansing with Plantax, which brings out all the accumulated bile and other foul secretions.

Plantax is a most effective liver tonic compounded from the juices of extracts of harmless plants—remedies from Nature's own laboratory. It acts in a gentle, easy way—no irritation or weakening of the organs. Large bottle $1. On sale at all good drug stores—Adv.

JOHN KNOX

We Want You to Win ... We Are for You!

—Writes the Former Governor of Oklahoma, Henry S. Johnston.

NOTE: John Knox was formerly a resident of Perry, Oklahoma, where he was a leading citizen and the above is evidence of the esteem in which he is held to this day by that fair state's foremost leaders.

And now John Knox is a candidate for the office of City Trustee of Santa Ana from the Second Ward and for one reason alone, which is aptly stressed in his own striking words: "I want to help my adopted home town grow and prosper."

VOTERS OF SANTA ANA—

We, the undersigned old friends of John Knox in Oklahoma, where we know he achieved so much as a public-spirited leader, and all of whom now are permanent residents of Santa Ana, to which city our all is dedicated so happily, know that a vast majority of our fellow-citizens here would be as strongly in favor of his election as we are if they knew, as intimately as we do, the fine qualities of this gentleman, together with the potential ability he possesses. If ever there was a self-made man, he is one. He started as a driver of a grocery delivery wagon and rose to the ownership of the largest department store in his home city, becoming director of the biggest bank. Always active in civic affairs, he naturally was the choice for president of the Chamber of Commerce for two terms. Later his financial ability brought him the reward of the office of city treasurer. . . . Since coming to Santa Ana he has continued his success in business and simultaneously has continued his active interest in public affairs. Verily, he is a man who does things in a right way—an ideal man to serve in high official capacity, and we are supremely confident every one of his constituents will be as happy as we will be if he is triumphantly elected to the Santa Ana City Council next Monday, April 13th.

McBride KNOWS Public Business

J. L. McBRIDE

EFFICIENT, FEARLESS AND ALWAYS HONEST

The faith of the people of Orange County and of Santa Ana in J. L. McBride has been demonstrated many times.

The reason they have faith in him is that he will not take a stand until he is thoroughly informed, and then, acting on information, he stands firm. He can't be moved by threats or bribery.

He will fight for what he thinks is right, and he is just about always right!

Statement by McBride: "If I am re-elected, I'll attend to the job. I am a heavy taxpayer, and see public business from the taxpayer's point of view."

McBride has been county surveyor, county superintendent of highways, president of the Santa Ana board of education, and, for four years city trustee. He is honest, capable and experienced. He is the kind of man Santa Ana will need on the city council the next four years.

Hood of Car Is Blown Lose And Smashes Another

A hood of a car blown loose from another car and flying through the air almost demolished the front of a car driven by Guy J. Gilbert yesterday, according to a report made today.

According to Gilbert, he was driving west on Seventeenth street when, in some manner, the hood on a car driven in the opposite direction by Prescott Johnston, of Orange, was blown from his car and crashed into Gilbert's car and then settled in a field some distance away. Gilbert narrowly escaped serious injury because if the hood had struck his car a trifle higher it would have smashed the windshield with probable serious consequences.

SERVICES FOR MRS. SMITH TO BE ON FRIDAY

The death of Mrs. Katherine Romaine Smith, 85, yesterday morning at her home, 1308 North Main street, marks the passing of the last member of one of the best known pioneer families of the city.

Mrs. Smith was the widow of Carey R. Smith, who died here September 8, 1925.

Funeral services are to be held tomorrow afternoon at the family residence at 2 o'clock. Services will be conducted by Dr. George D. Knights, pastor of the First Baptist church of Whittier, who will be assisted by the Rev. Harry Evans Owings, pastor of the local First Baptist church. Dr. Knights is an old friend of the family and conducted the funeral services of Mr. Smith.

Mrs. Smith was a member of an old Holland family which settled in New Jersey, and she was born at Ponds, that state, April 21, 1845, in the same house in which her father and her grandfather had been born. When a child of six she moved to New York City and later went with her parents to Muscatine county, Ia. She attended the normal department of the Iowa State university where she and the man she was to marry, were among the first students to be enrolled.

After teaching school, Mrs. Smith, who was then Katherine Romaine, was married in 1865 to Carey R. Smith and the couple established their home on Mt. Prospect farm near Iowa City, where they lived for 19 years. The Smiths were the first persons to import Holstein cattle and their stock farm became known all over the world as they owned cattle which held world records.

Mrs. Smith was the mother of five children, two of whom lived to maturity, Quincy Ralph Smith, who passed away here April 24, 1901, and Elsie Smith Halladay, who died March 18, 1920. Two granddaughters, Mrs. C. Harold Hopkins, of Beverly Hills and Balboa, and Mrs. John Jay Hopkins, of New York City, and five great-grandchildren survive her. The granddaughters are the children of Ralph Smith and Emma Birch Smith.

Coming to Santa Ana in 1884, for the benefit of Mr. Smith's health, Mrs. Smith and her husband were identified with the financial, civic and church development of the city. They built the home in which they both passed away.

A devout member of the First Baptist church of Iowa City which she joined when 19 years of age, Mrs. Smith transferred her membership to the Santa Ana church of this denomination when there were but 40 members. For 30 years she was superintendent and teacher of the primary department. Every year she gave a party for this department and has left a small foundation to perpetuate the event.

On August 17, 1925, Mr. and Mrs. Smith observed their sixtieth wedding anniversary when friends all over the Southland joined in assisting them in celebrating this event.

Mrs. Smith was an active member of the Santa Ana Ebell society for many years, while her husband organized the Sunset club, serving as the president for 14 years.

Interment is to be made in the family plot at Fairhaven cemetery.

4 Are Hurt When Auto Wheels Lock

Four persons were slightly injured at Tenth and Bush streets at 10:25 p. m. yesterday when the wheels on the car in which they were riding locked, causing the machine to overturn, according to a report made to the Santa Ana police.

The driver of the machine was Albert Kile, of 1338 Custer street, and the other occupants were Goldie Bolindger, of the same address, Grace Gardner and Carmen Baxter, the latter of 318 West Eighth street.

None of those injured was sent to a hospital and none of the injuries is believed to be of a serious nature.

Police News

Charles Brown and J. B. Ferguson, Santa Ana men, were arrested at Fourth and Main streets at 3:30 a. m. today on drunk charges. Officer McWilliams made the arrests.

HASENJAEGER, City Trustee

When I became a candidate for city trustee, I stated to the people of Santa Ana that I would make the race as an independent candidate. I am in this race no other way and shall continue independent, without any pledge to any organization, so that, if I am elected by the voters for this office, I shall be in a position to carry on my investigations and reach my conclusions without a single pledge to interfere with either such investigation or decision.

Whatever endorsements have come to my candidacy have come without any pledge being given by me and without any financial contribution being made by me.

The only pledge I make to the people of this city is that, believing in strict economy and sane development, I shall use my best efforts to restrict expenditures to things that are NECESSARY and proven to be essential.

If Your Ears Ring With Head Noises.

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises go to McCoy Drug Co. or your druggist and get 1 oz. of Parment (double strength), and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is safe. It is a take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial—Adv.

Fullerton	13	17	.435
Compton	12	18	.400
Woodrow Wilson	11	19	.365

Nearing the last lap of its Coast Preparatory league schedule, Coach Bill Foote's Santa Ana high school baseball team tomorrow faces Glendale's Dynamiters at Poly field.

This game, the Saints' last conference contest at home, will begin at 3 o'clock.

Coach Foote plans to start his usual lineup, with Captain Floyd ("Toys") Blower in the pitcher's box and Halderman back of the plate.

"Porky" Bell will be at first base, Francis Conrad at second, "Red" Kidder third and Veri Moyer shortstop. "Babe" Gordon, Lloyd Kneeland and Jim Daneri will roam the outer pastures, unless Foote decides at the last moment to pitch Daneri instead of Blower.

The Saints have shown plenty of offensive ability in all their games this year but Coach Foote has been unable to find an outstanding pitcher in his ranks. At various intervals he has tried Blower, Daneri, Bell and Kidder, with only fair success. None of the four has done much pitching, Blower having played second base last season and Daneri being an outfielder by trade.

Glendale's prowess is of doubtful quality, however, and Foote is confident that Blower and Daneri will be able to turn back the Dynamiters' threat.

Other league games this week are Compton at Woodrow Wilson, Pasadena at Long Beach and Fullerton at Alhambra.

Santa Ana plays two more league games after the Glendale set-but both will take the locals on the road. One is with Long Beach, the other Fullerton.

RUPPERT, YANKEE CLUB OWNER, ILL

NEW YORK, April 9.—Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankee baseball club, is seriously ill with acute bronchitis. Ruppert contracted a slight cold three days ago, became seriously ill and has been confined to his bed since.

Beckett Catches Pigskin Dropped From Campanile

BERKELEY, April 9.—(UP)—Ted Beckett, assistant freshman coach and All-American guard on the University of California football team last year, held the distinction today of being the first person to catch a football dropped from the school's 285-foot campanile.

Coach Bill Ingram dropped the ball and Beckett, standing below, circled around as it fell, finally grasping it.

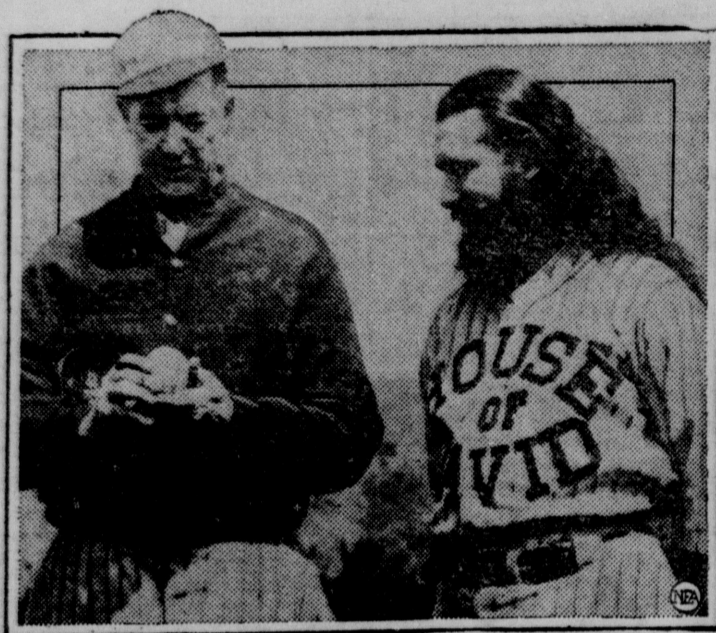

"Brick" Muller, all-American member of the California "wonder team" tried the feat several years ago and failed, although later he caught a ball dropped from a 485-foot building in San Francisco.

Six members of the California varsity, Captain Ed Griffith, Bob Hartgett, Ralston Gill, Ed Kirwan, Henry Schildbach and Ralph Stone, competed with Beckett but all failed.

ROAMING CAMERAMAN CATCHES SPORTS PICTURES HERE, THERE, EVERYWHERE

Grover Cleveland Alexander, former National League pitching hero, who seldom needed more than a haircut and shave to get in trim for a baseball campaign, doesn't need even that now. He has signed to pitch for the House of David semi-pro nine. This photo, taken at Mineral Springs, Tex., the spring training base of the House of David team, shows Old Alex and Dave Harrison, star third baseman of the cult, discussing the new baseball.

"If I ever have to leave Notre Dame," said Knute Rockne at a recent dinner at Jacksonville, Fla., "I think the man who probably will succeed me is Charley Bachman (above), now coaching at the University of Florida." Rockne went on to explain that Bachman's methods of coaching adhered to the Notre Dame style more nearly than those of any other coach.

GIRL DASH STAR DISCOVERED BY SCHOOL TEACHER WHO SAW HER SPRINTING AFTER TRAIN

CHICAGO, April 9.—(UP)—The world's champion girl sprinter discovered that she was a runner of more than average ability by racing for a train—and catching it.

Miss Betty Robinson, a 19-year-old sophomore at Northwestern University, runs the 50 yard dash in 5.4 seconds, just one-fifth of a second slower than the men's record. An Olympic champion in the 100 meter dash, she is the only one to train with members of the men's track team at Northwestern.

Miss Robinson attributes her "discovery" to Professor C. B. Price, her biology instructor in high school in Riverdale, Ill. "Professor Price saw me running after a moving train in March, 1928," she said. "I caught the train after a dash of about 70 yards. He seemed impressed with my running and persuaded me to enter the Bankers' meet in Chicago two weeks later. He trained me, showed me how to start, breathe and move my arms. Two weeks

DONS IN FINAL DUAL MEET OF SEASON FRIDAY

If Coach Bill Cook can recruit most of his Santa Ana Jaycee track team, none of his cripples have relapses and the whole bunch comes up to ordinary expectations, the Dons' 1931 dual meet season may end in victory when the Santa Anans go to Fullerton tomorrow for their last conference contest.

On the basis of past performances, Santa Ana should win. The Dons have averaged 10 to 20 points more against the high powered competition in the Western division of the junior college loop. Most of the Yellowjackets' strength will come in the field events although both schools have such a scarcity of men that anything may happen on the track.

Donahue Favored in Mile
Captain Tom Donahue is expected to get below 4:40 and win with ease. He may also tackle the two-mile run although it is hoped that Bob Durbin will join the squad again and take the heavy work in the eight-lap grind. With Donahue and Durbin both running, the Dons will be well fortified in the distance.

Melvin Beatty, capable of tossing the javelin around 170 feet, will be hard pressed by Smith and Foltz of Fullerton, both of whom approach this mark. In the other two field events, Fry of Fullerton is hoped to win since he tosses the discus well over 120 feet and the shot nearly 45 feet. Howard Morris, Harley Melman, and Charles Crumrine will toss the Greek platform for Santa Ana. McInnis and Koral will push the shot.

Gilbert Field Event Star
Ten sure points will be earned by Doyle Gilbert in the broad jump and pole vault. He is consistent at 22 feet in the broad jump and clears 11 feet 6 inches in the pole vault. Since he also is a good high jumper, he may place but Art Jacques of Santa Ana and Johnson of Fullerton probably will fight it out for first honors, both being dangerous around six feet.

Joe Rodriguez, Bert Wilkins and George Blewitt are expected to take their share of the points in the dashes where Fullerton is notably weak. Blewitt specializes on the quarter-mile. Rodriguez and Wilkins will handle the shorter races. Ervin Watkins is the sole Don entering the 880 but he is fast enough to break the tape.

If Don Dresser has recovered from his recent leg injury, the high hurdles should go to the Dons for Dresser is capable of running the high barriers in 16 seconds. Clarence Preston will run the low hurdles with Durbin and possibly Dresser.

CLEVELAND TO LEASE STADIUM FOR TITLE BOUT

CLEVELAND, April 9.—(INS)—Contract for the use of the new Cleveland municipal stadium for the Max Schmeling-Young Stribling heavyweight boxing championship match here in July, today awaited the signatures of the fight promoters.

City officials drew up the lease after a prolonged session here yesterday with President William F. Carey of Madison Square Garden, New York, and President William Saxe of the Madison Square Garden corporation of Illinois.

The matter of signing the document was regarded today as merely a formality inasmuch as all concerned were said to have looked with favor on the provisions of the lease.

The conditions mentioned in the contract follow:
Rent will be $25,000.
The city will pay $12,500 of the cost of the equipment for the fight, including the ring, field platform and temporary seats.

The equipment will become the property of the city after the fight. The Illinois corporation will handle the concessions, and the city will receive 50 per cent of the profits therefrom.
The corporation also will take care of other incidental expenses.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

ASHEVILLE.—The New York Yankees play the Boston Red Sox today and tomorrow in the Asheville team today and tomorrow move on to Charlotte for their final road exhibition game. The Yankees won yesterday from Asheville, 11 to 3, Ruth and Gehrig hitting homers.

GREENVILLE, S. C.—The series of the White Sox and Giants, with four games to be played, stood six to four today. The Sox won here yesterday 12 to 9, although the New Yorkers got five home runs to three circuiters for the alabasters. Two homers by McKain paved the way for the Sox win.

MACON, Ga.—The Robins were pitched home today. After their final game with Hartford tomorrow they will dash for a train that will bring them into Brooklyn Friday evening.

PHILADELPHIA.—Burt Shotton's lowly Phillies today were assured of the 1931 "city series" title following their third victory over the champions Athletics by a 6 to 2 margin yesterday. Lefty Grove, Connie Mack's ace, blew up in the seventh inning when the Phils scored four runs. Elliott and Stoner hurled for the Phils.

HOOKE and SLIDES William Braucher

MOTHERLY NOTES

Mr. Robert Moses Grove is not one to take his own dignity lightly. For that reason Mr. Mack is constantly watching him, guarding him against embarrassment. Of course, you might not think Mr. Mack was watching him, for Mr. Mack can pose for a picture with three members of the Bear Gulch Commercial club and at the same time make a mental note that a right-field rookie is holding his mouth wrong when going after a fly hit to his left.

One day at Fort Myers Mr. Mack was sitting on the bench holding an animated conversation with three ladies from the Wolf Hollow Library Aid association and telling them how much he would like to have them call on him if they ever should visit Philadelphia.

It happened that Lefty Grove was pitching to the batters that day. Mr. Mack did not seem to be paying much attention to what his athletes were doing. Mickey Cochrane suddenly lashed out at one of Grove's hard ones and patted it right back at the slender southpaw. Grove had to go into a huddle with himself to save ears, eyes, nose and mouth.

It was most undignified. Red about the ears. Mr. Grove stuffed his glove into his pocket and walked off the field. He was angry, girls, and it was some time before he returned to the slab.

NO FOOLIN' THIS TIME

The players took their turns and at length Cochrane came up again. Grove unloaded everything he had. High hard ones whizzed close to Cochrane's scound. Sweeping curves dipped plateward as the Mick crouched, red-faced, in the batter's box.

Plainly they were both angry. About that time Connie was seated with a couple of big shots from Mechanicsburg, Miss., who were arranging a fishing trip for him "next spring sure." He was explaining to them that if they ever came to Philadelphia and didn't visit him, he would resent it keenly.

Suddenly he called to Bing Miller, the "dark folks" outfielder of the A's, whose timely blow ended the 1929 world series with a victory for his team. He whispered to Miller.

At once Miller went over behind the batting cage, and started up a line of lively chatter. He kidded both Grove and Cochrane unmercifully, in a phoney high-pitched voice, winding up with, "Come now, girls, one of us is going to be injured."

Cochrane turned with a grin. Grove smiled a wide smile. Lefty grooved one and the Mick patted it out of the lot. The funny business was ended.

This is merely an impression of Connie Mack, showing how motherly Mr. Mack can be.

RAY SMITH TO JOIN S. A. FOR NIGHT SEASON?

Ray Smith, second baseman for the Santa Ana Stars when they won the first Southern California night baseball championship in 1929, worked out with the club in practice last night in the Bowl.

Smith is now a practicing chiropractor in Pasadena but contemplates opening offices here as well and if so will rejoin his old teammates, he indicated.

The "Doc" once had the strongest throwing arm in night baseball but injured it two years ago and has been on the shelf basically ever since. The arm is regaining some of its old power now. Smith always was a splendid fielder and a dangerous batsman from either side of the plate.

Neither Leavitt nor Ed Daley practiced with the Stars. Leavitt is suffering from a heavy cold. Ed strained a muscle in his back at Long Beach Monday night. Manager George Lackaye used an infield composed of John Lutz at first base, Phil Schrott at second, Darwin Scott third and "Memph" Hill short.

Joe Ochoa will start on the ridge with Mearl Youel probably finishing the assignment.

GARLAND OFF FOR OLYMPIC MEETING

LOS ANGELES, April 9.—(UP)—William May Garland, president of the Los Angeles 10th Olympiad committee, will leave tonight for Barcelona, Spain, to attend a meeting of the International Olympic committee, of which he is senior member for the United States. Garland will make a final report on the program and progress the Olympic games here, July 30 to August 14, 1932. There will be no further meetings of the international body until July of next year.

Wally Fraser, one time main-eventer here, appears in a 6-round preliminary. He fights Columbus Evans, colored light heavy. Fraser has gone back but probably not so far that he can't whip fellows like Evans.

Bobby O'Hara, a natural southpaw trying to learn the more orthodox manner, is favored to outstep rugged Eddie Lozano in the No. 2 spot.

Tony Moreno, another erstwhile main-eventer, meets Tommy Santos in the first bout of the card. The house is scaled from 50 cents to $1.50.

OLD RIVALS IN BOUT TONIGHT: MACIAS FIGHTS

They turn back the calendar at Delhi tonight.

Zenaydo Chavez and Indian Jimmie Rivers, a couple of welterweights who would have fought each other at eight two years ago, finally got together in the rematch that every small club matchmaker in Southern California tried to swing late in 1929. Although they share the spotlight with the ever popular "Wild Man" Macias and Frankie Stevens, also welters, Chavez and Rivers are the boys who will pack 'em in.

Two long years and a surprising lack of ballyhoo from Matchmaker Benny Whitman's headquarters fall to snap altogether the color and glamour of another Chavez-Rivers collision.

Stars of Rural Clubs

Chavez-Rivers enmity really grew up with the renaissance of boxing in Orange County. Chavez was the toast of H. T. Foust's club, Rivers the idol of Boyd Ellis's rival arena up the street a few paces. They both got most of their publicity by knocking over a row of setups, but there was nothing phony about the intense rivalry that existed between the fighters, their handlers and for that matter the eager fans that took sides one way or the other with the rival promoters.

Eventually Ellis closed his club and Foust got Chavez and Rivers. The match drew a tremendous crowd, the largest in Delhi history. Chavez won a hairline decision, and of course the whole Rivers following said that the verdict, rendered unanimously by the referee and two judges, was unjust. Foust labored long and hard to rematch them over the 10-round route, the first edition having been a four-rounder. He had them signed once but Rivers claimed illness on the day before the match and it fell through. Rivers left the state on a barnstorming trip soon afterward and has been away most of the time since.

Drifts To Long Beach

Chavez eventually drifted to Long Beach and began fighting for the Wilmington club. Always inconsistent, Chavez became more so there. He would win three or four times in a row, then lose to the rankiest kind of an opponent. Eventually he married, settled down. His boxing has been a lot better since. Just a couple of weeks ago he whipped Paul De Hate, still a pretty tough customer.

Rivers is a better boxer than Chavez and is considerably more experienced, having met some of the finest welters on the coast during his various barnstorming tours up and down the coast. He figures to outstep Chavez unless the hard-hitting Zenaydo tags him on the chin somewhere along the route.

Frankie Stevens, opponent of Macias in the other half of the double bill, claims to have fought Paul Pirroni and Billy Petrolle in the east and to have won five straight on the coast, but his record is too uncertain to warrant security. Macias probably will take care of himself pretty well.

Shipley Buys Macias Contract
The hardy Mexican, long the stormy petrel of a contract row between Ex-Promoter Foust and Manager Roger Shipley, is tough in anybody's league. He has been out of commission for almost six months with injuries and ineffectuality but now that Shipley has purchased his papers and his "ownership" is definitely decided will be working regularly.

Wally Fraser, one time main-eventer here, appears in a 6-round preliminary. He fights Columbus Evans, colored light heavy. Fraser has gone back but probably not so far that he can't whip fellows like Evans.

Bobby O'Hara, a natural southpaw trying to learn the more orthodox manner, is favored to outstep rugged Eddie Lozano in the No. 2 spot.

Tony Moreno, another erstwhile main-eventer, meets Tommy Santos in the first bout of the card. The house is scaled from 50 cents to $1.50.

MIRANDA HELD IN KILLING OF WAR VETERAN

Jose Miranda, 23, Anaheim Indian, yesterday waived his preliminary examination on a charge of failure to stop and render aid, and was held by Justice Kenneth Morrison to the superior court in bail of $1000.

The car Miranda is alleged to have been driving ran down Robert M. Charles, 55, well known Anaheim man, Saturday night, near Anaheim, killing him. Soon afterwards, the car was traced by State Traffic Officers Barnhill and Sawyer, and Miranda was arrested. He is reported to have stated at the time that he knew his car had hit what he thought was a man, but he had gone home at the time before reporting the matter to authorities. He was at home at the time he was arrested.

Charles was instantly killed. A coroner's jury, in an inquest over the body, returned a verdict to the effect that Charles had died after being struck by an automobile driven by Miranda, "who failed to stop and render aid."

Driver Unhurt, 3 Passengers Are Hurt In Crash

Three persons were injured Tuesday when a car driven by Mira D. McKay, 62, of 121 South Avenue 57, Los Angeles, swerved off the road and overturned a half mile north of Galian on the San Diego highway, it was reported.

Mrs. McKay, said to be a saleswoman for the Dana Point Development company, driving a Studebaker sedan in which were riding Mr. and Mrs. Yost, aged respectively 78 and 76 years, of 608 South Westlake avenue, Los Angeles, and Mrs. O'Hara, 46, of 1895 Hereford street, Montebello, were driving south to Dana Point. Mrs. McKay passed a car headed north, just as she reached the point of the highway on which the construction company is at work; seeing the roadbed was torn up for some distance ahead of her she attempted to draw her car to one side of the road, and applied her brakes. The car skidded for some distance, jumped a two foot road sign, and landed upside down, headed in the opposite direction.

The driver was unhurt, but all other occupants of the car were bruised, cut, and suffered possible internal injuries. The car was almost a total wreck.

BOOZE PLAYS PART IN HOUSE RAIDING

Accused of breaking into the beach home of Lawrence Booth, Los Angeles broker, at Laguna Beach, three men were being held in the county jail yesterday after their arrest by Laguna Beach police officers and Deputy Sheriff E. T. Nickles.

A case of beer and a case of assorted liquors were said to have been found in a car driven by one of the prisoners, who also is being held for possession and transportation of liquor, officers said. He is W. H. Yett, 47, a painter, of Laguna Beach. The other two men are Truman R. Fisher, 22, of 224 Beverly street, Laguna Beach, and Austin Moffet, 23, of Wave street, Laguna Beach. The latter two are booked for suspicion of burglary.

The trio was rounded up by Constable Glenn Elliott, of Laguna Beach, and Officer Ernest Pyke, when they are asserted to have made an attempted get-away early yesterday.

Officers did not know whether the liquor found came out of the Booth home, they said, but there was evidence that the house had recently been entered, they reported.

CAMELS are wrapped Only in MOISTURE-PROOF Cellophane

Cigarettes in prime condition have a moisture content of about 10%. It will be seen by the chart that cigarettes in the ordinary wrapped package lose more than half of their total moisture in thirty days and that only the Camel Humidor Pack delivers cigarettes to you in prime condition.

THE whole country is talking about the throat-easy mildness and the factory freshness of Camel Cigarettes in the new Humidor Pack.

The above chart prepared by the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory tells you why.

Please examine it carefully. It is an unfailing guide to cigarette selection and enjoyment

As you can quickly see by the three upper curves on this interesting chart, cigarettes that lack the protection of the Humidor Pack lose their moisture rapidly from the day they are manufactured.

And day by day as this moisture disappears, the smoke from these cigarettes becomes harsher, hotter, more unkind to the smoker's throat.

Not so with Camels!

Factory-fresh Camels are air-sealed in the new Sanitary Package which keeps the dust and germs out and keeps the flavor in.

Make these tests yourself

It is so easy to tell the difference between parched dry cigarettes and fresh prime Camels that it is no wonder everybody is reaching for a fresh cigarette today.

Your fingers identify stale, dried-out tobaccos at once. While a Camel is flexible and pliant.

Your ears can tell the difference too. For a dust-dry cigarette crackles under pressure.

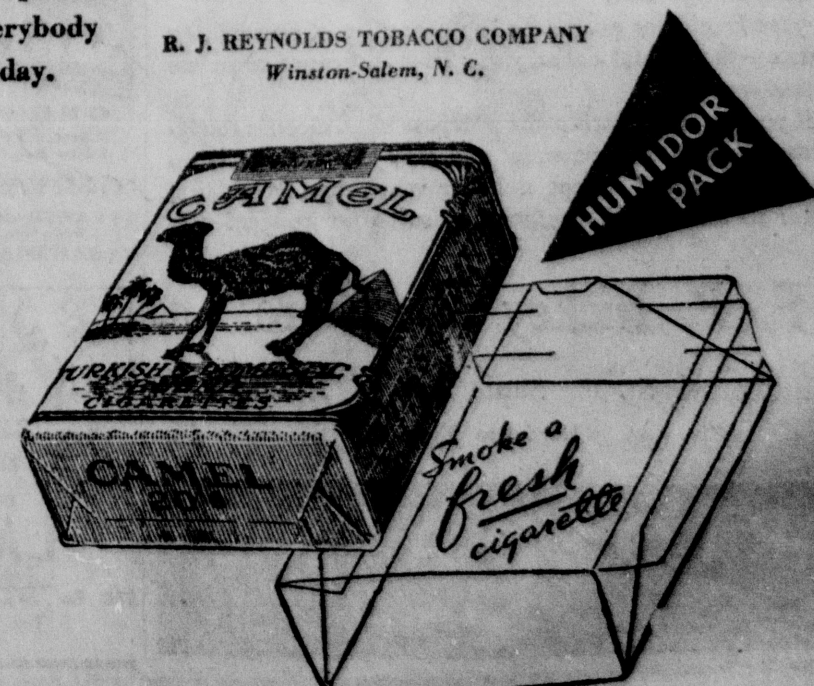

But the real test is taste and there is simply no comparison between the rich mildness of a Camel and the hot, brackish smoke from a stale, dry cigarette.

Switch to Camels just for today then leave them tomorrow if you can.

CAMELS

Artificial heat in houses and apartments soon dries the moisture out of cigarettes wrapped the old fashioned way. It is the mark of a considerate hostess, by means of the Humidor Pack, to "Serve a fresh cigarette." Buy Camels by the carton—this cigarette will remain fresh in your home and office.

Lieutenant Hinton Welcomed By 300 At Luncheon

FAMOUS FLIER GUEST HERE OF EXCHANGE CLUB

Over 300 people rose to their feet to applaud Lieutenant Walter Hinton when he was introduced at a public luncheon held in his honor at the American Legion hall here yesterday noon. Distinguished guests and the balance of the assembly enthusiastically acclaimed Lt. Hinton, who is the hero of the first flight across the Atlantic, the first to fly to South America, and the man who gained fame as a member of the balloon crew which rode the winds half way to the north pole.

Lieutenant Hinton arrived in Santa Ana at 10:45 a. m., yesterday accompanied by a three plane escort from Eddie Martin's airport who met him over Long Beach. He was greeted by a committee headed by Mayor Frank L. Purinton and was presented with a beautiful basket of flowers by Merle Morris, of the Exchange club. An escort of traffic officers brought him into town, and he was then taken to the Santa Ana hotel, as the guest of the Exchange club.

Hinton spoke to over 1500 students and citizens of the county at a special assembly held at 11 a. m. in the Santa Ana High school auditorium, and from there he was taken to the Legion hall, where luncheon was served and he spoke again. Following the luncheon meeting, Hinton addressed the student body of the Tustin High school.

Listeners who tuned in on KREG between 8:30 and 9 p. m. last night heard Hinton give more of his interesting experiences in pioneering air routes and explorations. Lieutenant Hinton began his address at the Legion hall yesterday noon by complimenting Santa Ana and other California cities on the advancement of aids to aviation made by the communities. He declared that this was one of the few states that had enough roof markings telling the location and name of the town to enable the aviator to ascertain his location. He spoke of a new movement being started in eastern states to mark highways in colors so that the aviator would have a definite route to follow. He complimented Santa Ana on its airports, declaring that good airports were of untold benefit to a city as they brought money to the city by attracting aviators and people who traveled by air.

MEAL TIME

Proving that humming birds can be tamed, Nathalie Mustol, shown here, has several feathered friends which sip sugar from her finger tips. Their nest is in the yard of her home at 1246 South Van Ness avenue, where she lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Mustol, and her sisters, Evelyn and Virginia.

"Our flight over the Atlantic in 1922 was not an adventure," Hinton declared in beginning his address, "it was merely in the line of duty. We started with three planes for Newfoundland. One of the planes broke down and was forced to land in the open sea and taxied 18 miles into the bay.

"When we left on the trans-Atlantic trip, we of the crew of the NC-4 saw our last glimpse of planes number one and two. Icebergs nearly filled the bay and we suffered somewhat from the fact that our clothing became wet in the take-off, as the sea was very rough. Shortly we ran into rain and kept following the searchlights over the engines to see that they were functioning properly.

"During the trip number one plane was forced to land in the open sea. The plane broke up and began to sink. Fortunately a steamer heard the noise of the engine as it descended and picked up the crew just as the plane was sinking. A little later the NC-3 was forced to land at sea, but the buoyancy of the gas tanks kept it afloat for a time. Two of the crew stood on the wings and kept the plane balanced. A wind sprang up and the crew sailed the plane into port in the Azores Islands. We were flying at an elevation of 250 feet and were fortunate enough to land in the harbor without mishap.

"Later we took off again and in due time landed in Lisbon, Portugal. From there we flew to Plymouth, England, where we were awarded a royal reception. From there we went to Paris. In all we visited 24 cities in Europe. The plane we used in the flight is now in the Smithsonian museum.

"Of all the flights I have made, I believe that the one we made in a free balloon was the most thrilling. We started out with 400, 35 boxes of sand for ballast and two carrier pigeons. There were three of us in the basket of the balloon. Soon after leaving the ground we were caught in a storm over the Atlantic and decided that it would be best to stay out over night. Early

HUMMING BIRDS ADOPT SANTA ANA GIRL AS GUARDIAN AND SIP SUGAR FROM HER FINGER

A flowery domain to the rear of the S. J. Mustol home at 1246 South Van Ness avenue is shared by birds, bees, butterflies, and that rarest of moths, the humming bird moth. All taking part in nature's glorious spring festival; but two little humming birds, Dickie and Biddie reign supreme.

They are the special pets of the Mustol family, and Nathalie Mustol, daughter of the Mustol home, and prefer sugar from her fingers to the natural nectar of surrounding blossoms. Nevertheless they remain most loyal to Nathalie, who fed them from the time their long beaks first protruded above the nest. It is to her that they go for welcome on returning from a day's visit to the great outdoors. On various occasions they permit her to run her finger lightly under their necks in light caress.

Interested friends who visit the Mustol home claim themselves fortunate indeed to see Dickie or Biddie sip breakfast or luncheon. Should the birds feel timid, visitors tip-toe away, leaving the fluttering creatures to their nest in the budding lilac bush, whose blossoms promise soon to be the delight of one of the city's most interesting homes.

Naturally a loving child, numbering many friends among the kingdom of smaller life, Nathalie attempted what many believed impossible — taming the humming birds. That was two months ago. Now when Nathalie enters the yard, humming lightly to her little friends, they welcome her with chirps, and fly to her, eager to get the sweetened water which they have learned to sip from her fingers. At times, if she is wearing a bright-hued dress, they respond strangely, and flutter about her until they are certain she is their mistress. Even the mother bird — almost pugnacious when first approached, is feeling the spell as her children do, and joins with Dickie and Biddie in greeting Nathalie.

The interesting bird trio is extending friendship to other mem-

CLYDE DOWNING, IN ADDRESS OVER RADIO, URGES RENEWED INTEREST IN CITY AFFAIRS

In a speech over KREG last night, Clyde Downing, candidate for city attorney, urged with a great deal of forcefulness that all citizens awaken and manifest augmented interest in the franchise granted them by the ballot. He made it plain that there is some cause for concern over a growing apathy in the smaller elections which seem unimportant.

He impressed on listeners that previously checking the records and the very existence of the people is dependent upon the political structure of the small communities as well as the nation at large, and also drove home a plea in behalf of relegating to the background what he termed "an alarming indifference."

His radio address in full follows: "My purpose tonight is to discuss for a few moments the responsibilities of citizenship. However, no doubt, many people out in radio-land would like to have some expression from me concerning my candidacy for city attorney.

"I am independent. I represent no special interest and am under no obligation politically to any man or group of men or any political machine. As city attorney I would stand unalterably for strict enforcement of the law without fear or favor.

"Your verdict on April 13th whether in my favor or not, will not alter my principles towards the strict enforcement of law, and will, in no wise, effect my actions towards Santa Ana and its citizens. I will continue to lend my best efforts to its upbuilding.

"Through the machinations of shrewd politicians, the word 'politics' has assumed almost a sinister meaning. This is politics psychology. As a result of this well laid plan of the politicians, legion of fair-minded, law abiding and patriotic citizens are apathetic on election day and the minority gain control.

"My message, tonight, friends, is a challenge to every citizen to awaken. America guarantees to its citizenry the protection of their homes, the preservation of their estates, the freedom of thought and the pursuit of happiness. A careful analysis discloses that the very existence of the people of this great republic is dependent upon its political structure.

"Individually, we are very scrutinizing in making our investments, in the schools for our children and everything that pertains to our health and happiness, yet, to the most important of all, the economic structure under which we live, we show an alarming indifference. The all powerful and only method we have to control this all important phase of society is the right of franchise—the ballot box.

"My appeal, tonight, friends, is for you to use the same amount of scrutiny and consideration of the men and women seeking your support on election day, April 13th, as you give to your own personal affairs.

"If you forfeit the great privilege of casting your ballot, it makes it impossible for the minority to thwart the schemes of the politicians and once more they control without apparently changing the democratic principle of majority rule.

"A very clever and ingenious plan to cloak the minority with majority rules to present a large number of candidates for a limited number of offices to be filled. Of course, the machine already has a slate and cast their ballots straight through. Unsuspecting voters, not

Claims $25,000 On Lands Condemned By State for Parks

A claim for $25,000 as their interest in one parcel of the lands sought to be condemned by the state of California as a state park site at Huntington Beach is set up in an answer to the condemnation proceeding which has been filed in superior court by S. H. and Ida H. Finley.

The Finleys assert they have an interest in the parcel known as No. 5, in that they reserved all oil rights beneath the land in their deed to Hal R. Clark. They further declare in the answer that this is located in the Huntington Beach oil basin and is valuable for the development of oil of the reasonable value of $25,000.

Little Son's Birthday
Observed on Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Dickinson, of 708 North Baker street, celebrated their sixth wedding anniversary yesterday, and in the afternoon Mrs. Dickinson entertained a group of her friends at an enjoyable party to which added significance was given by the fact that the day also celebrated the fifth birthday of Master Russell Dickinson, young son of the home.

Many garden flowers in bright colors were used in decorations and were arranged in artistic fashion by Mrs. Irene Lancaster. When refreshments were served at the close of an enjoyable afternoon, Mrs. Dickinson used small cubes of sugar tied with blue ribbons, as gay little favors emphasizing the fact that the sixth wedding anniversary is the "sugar wedding".

Master Russell and his friends spent the afternoon in play, their games adding to the entertainment of the assembled mothers. The little lad received many pretty presents, and had the joy of a birthday cake served with ice cream and fruit punch.

Those present were Mrs. W. F. Jones and daughter Ethel; Mrs. Irene Lancaster with Jerry, Lee and Bert Lancaster; Mrs. Roch Bradshaw and her little children, "Bill", Barbara and Marion; Mrs. C. C. Brown and daughter, Geo. Belle; Mrs. O. D. Askins, Mrs. Charles Dooling and children, Wanda and Bobbie; Junior McInis, Dickie and Maxine Hill, Virginia Raymond and Junior Elliott.

Interesting Poetry
Review Given at Ebell Meeting

Walter de La Mare and his fanciful works of poetry were discussed by Miss Beulah May Tuesday afternoon at the meeting of the Modern Poetry section of Ebell society held with Mrs. M. C. Maloney, 1620 North Baker street. Stating that he has written for 25 years, Miss May said that his earlier poems often are considered his best creations, although his works are uniformly good.

During his career Mr. de La Mare has published two collected volumes of poems, and his latest publication is a small book of poems, "The Exile". Miss May read several of what she considered his most beautiful writings. A short business meeting was held, during which Mrs. Alice Hill Hatch was appointed chairman of a committee to arrange a display at the flower show April 9 and 10. Election of officers will be a feature of the next meeting, to be held in the home of Miss May. At this time Mrs. L. M. Smith will have charge of the program, with the English poet, John Oxenham, as the subject of the day.

Tuesday afternoon's session was concluded when the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. McCormick, and Miss Vanche Plumb, served refreshments.

Told at Party In El Modena

The Oscar Stanfield home in El Modena was the scene of a lovely social affair of the Easter season when Mrs. Stanfield entertained a group of friends announcing the approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Orpha Stanfield, to Nick Beitzell of this city.

The home was prettily decorated for the happy occasion with large baskets of spring blossoms. The hours of the evening were filled with interesting games and contests, the most popular of which was the writing of a romance using 15 pictures which were given each guest with which to illustrate the story. Mrs. Chester Stearns captured the first prize and Mrs. Elwood Paddock won second.

At a late hour refreshments of ice cream and cake were served on small tables spread with dainty linens and each centered with an Easter bunny standing guard over a nest of candy eggs. On opening the eggs, heart-shaped cards were found inscribed with the names, "Orpha and Nick," and the chosen wedding month, June.

Bidden to the lovely affair complimenting Miss Stanfield were, Mrs. Elwood Paddock, Mrs. Prentice Curl of Irvine, Mrs. Harry Skiles, Mrs. Jay Stone, Mrs. A. C. Concert Pianist Will Open Master Classes

Of pronounced interest in musical circles, was the announcement made today that Madame Welma Souvageol, concert pianist, had established a home and studio in this city at 424 West Pine street, and would assemble a master class in piano, especially for the benefit and interest of piano teachers of the community.

Madame Souvageol was a St. Louis girl, but received her musical training abroad, and at the age of 12, had the honor of playing before Paderewski. In accordance with his advice, she studied for the next five years under Wehmer in Leipzig, one of the leading exponents of the Leschetizky method and himself a student under the maestro. At the age of 17, the young American girl was teaching in the Royal conservatory at Stuttgart and remained in Germany, eventually marrying and establishing a music school.

Since coming back to her homeland, where her husband will join her as soon as their business interests abroad can be cleared up, she has conducted master classes in Denver. Mme. Souvageol's background is one of music, for her uncle, P. G. Antone, was concertmaster of the St. Louis Symphony for 30 years, her grandfather was concertmaster of the Royal orchestra in Darmstadt for many years, and another uncle occupied the same position with the Darmstadt orchestra in New York City.

Having made her home in Anaheim for several months, Mme. Souvageol has a number of pupils in that city as well as in Los Angeles, who will continue their studies under her in the Santa Ana studio.

STANDARD
RATING SCALE
for Electric Refrigeration

Is the refrigerator manufactured by a reliable company with proper experience in the electric refrigeration field?
Has it plenty of food and shelf space?
Is the cabinet itself well designed, sturdy built and properly insulated?
Is there provision for the framing of an adequate supply of ice cubes? (Quantity of ice rather than number of cubes, which may be of large or small size, should be taken into consideration.)

Will the refrigerator constantly maintain a proper temperature for the preservation of foods?
Can the freezing of ice cubes and desserts be speeded up when the need arises?

Can this extra freezing speed for ice cubes be had without affecting the temperature on the food shelves? (Too low a temperature on the shelves will, of course, injure food.)

Is there a place to keep ice cream, meat, fish, game, "quick frozen" foods or extra ice cubes indefinitely at a below freezing temperature?

Are these various temperatures (a. extra fast freezing; b. fast freezing; c. below freezing for storage; and d. normal food preservation temperature) automatically maintained without any attention from the owner?

Does the refrigerating unit operate often or infrequently? (The fewer "stops" and "starts" the longer the unit will last and the less it costs to run.)

How long will the cooling unit continue to cool the refrigerator even though the current is shut off? (Refrigeration should continue for 10 or 12 hours.)

Can the back parts of all shelves, even the lowest, be reached without kneeling or sitting down?

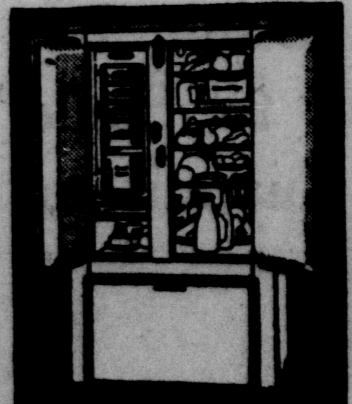

Has provision been made for keeping vegetables fresh and crisp?

Can the refrigerator top be used to "set things down for a moment" while the contents of the cabinet are being rearranged?

Will the refrigerator add to the attractiveness of the kitchen?

Has the experience of users over a long period of years proved the refrigerator long-lived and dependable?

ONLY once in a long while does a buying idea come along that instantly grips the attention of the entire public. Young and old alike are turning to the Standard Rating Scale as an unerring guide to real value in an electric refrigerator. Apply it to any refrigerator. "Shop", if you will, but be sure to include Kelvinator when you do. Let this unerring measure of value show you how far Kelvinator is out in front in value. Phone or write for the Scale with a detailed discussion of each point.

Bread-and-Butter Note

I am glad to have this question for column use, because it interests every woman who regards the maintenance of health and good looks as a duty and privilege. Here is the question:

"Can you tell me how much starch is in 100 per cent whole-wheat bread?"

Any kind of bread has a starch base equaling about half the total caloric value. It may be slightly under in the case of bread with a large percentage of bran, or a bit over in bread using concentrated flour and sugar.

A loaf of wholewheat bread weighing one pound has a caloric total of 1130, with one-half of this total tied up in the starch content. This bread also carries about 10 per cent of protein. Bread-and-butter is rightly called the "staff of life" for in this combination is found the necessary supply of energy food, plus the tissue growing proteins, all tied together and fired for the body's use by the all-important growth vitamin A, found in butter.

Children need vitamin A to prevent the bone malformation commonly known as "rickets." When you see children with bony legs or "pigeon breast" chest formation, you can bank on it that their diet is deficient in the A vitamin. Don't wreck your children's future health and good looks to save a few pennies right now.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Poached Salmon
With
Lemon Cream Sauce
1/2 small salmon or a salmon trout
4 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cups skim milk
2 cups thin cream
2 tablespoons minced parsley
3 tablespoons lemon juice
Salt, pepper and paprika.

During the commercial salmon fishing season you will find in fish stalls the small salmon known as "baby salmon," too small to can successfully, and too small to cut into fillets for frying. I have bought the whole fish weighing about four pounds, for as little as 50 cents.

These little salmon are lacking in fat, consequently care must be used in the way they are cooked. Ordinary baking produces something that tastes like dry chips, but poaching? A-a-ah, that's another story!

Clean the fish, cut off the fins and head, wash in cold salt water, wipe dry and tie loosely in a piece of thin cotton cloth (cheese cloth).

Bridge Players Enjoy Dinner Party In "Our Village"

Motoring to Laguna Beach, a little group of friends last night enjoyed dining amidst the attractive surroundings of La Casa del Camino on the coast boulevard, as a preliminary to an evening of bridge for which the party returned to this city.

A special table reserved at La Casa del Camino, was inviting with its bright flowers and trailing smilax, and a delicious dinner menu was served, with places indicated for Mrs. Arnold Lund, Mrs. Sidney Lowrey, Mrs. Burr Shaffer, Miss Elizabeth Phillips, Mrs. Henry S. Williams and her houseguest, Mrs. Robert Wharton, Mrs. Robert Jeffrey, Mrs. Charles Hyde and Mrs. Emmett Elliott.

An unexpected pleasure of the evening was the solo sung by William W. Riddell, noted member of the Laguna Beach art colony, and proprietor of the hotel, with Mrs. Lund at the piano. The song was a manuscript copy presented to the artist by its composer, Miss Josephine Hills, well-known musician of Our Village, who had given a lovely musical setting to a short poem by Mrs. Elliott. Adding interest was the fact that Mr. Riddell had bound the song with one of his beautiful paintings.

The evening was completed with bridge in the home of Mrs. Lund, 2412 Poinsettia street, where prizes were awarded Miss Phillips and Mrs. Hyde, while "in-between" gifts provided pleasant souvenirs for each of the remaining guests.

Lay fish in large pan with a little boiling water, seasoned with salt, a bay leaf and tablespoon of vinegar. Bring to the boil, cover, and simmer for 30 minutes. Take up in cloth, put on its platter, tip to drain, then slip fish off the cloth. Mask with the sauce, garnish with paprika and minced parsley and serve.

Tricks About the Sauce Making
Blend butter and flour, add cold milk and stir constantly until a thick smooth sauce results. Place the vessel over hot water, add the cream and whip until very smooth, adding the lemon juice a few drops at a time while whipping. Keep the sauce below boiling point or it will curdle. Season with salt, pepper and parsley and pour over the fish as soon as ready.

A four-pound salmon will serve eight. The calories for the salmon and sauce total 3075.

SUMMER FRUIT CAKE, the title of the current leaflet, is just a little more than a mere empty title. It is the perfect time of fruit cake may enjoy making and serving through the summer. It keeps well and isn't expensive to make, as such cakes go. It is available free of charge this week on receipt of your stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"MILLIE" OPENS AT FOX-BROADWAY THEATER TODAY

"Nobody owns me. I own myself. I'm myself, all alone, living my own life!" That is the philosophy of "Millie" born of her contact with men.

"Millie" is the fiery-haired heroine of the Donald Henderson Clarke novel which has been produced for Radio Pictures by Charles R. Rogers, and opens today at the Fox Broadway theater.

"Millie's story is that of a young girl whose heart takes her from a village school room to be the wife of a philandering New Yorker. Her faith in love is rudely shaken by the affairs of her husband, but her faith in men is still intact until she has given her heart to a young reporter who also tires of her caresses and shows a preference toward blondes.

With the close of these two unfortunate flurries in romance she becomes an advocate of independence. She closes her heart to men and her romantic affairs are carried on in a superficial way. She attempts to treat men as they have treated her and succeeds until she finds that man is striking at her from another source. At this point the gaiety of the story gives way to seething drama bringing on a tremendous climax.

Helen Twelvetrees, who has recently been hailed in emotional roles such as "Her Man," is cast as a flame-haired girl. The supporting cast includes Lilyan Tashman, Robert Ames, Joan Blondell, John Halliday, James Hall and Anita Louise. "Millie" was directed by John Francis Dillon.

Unique Entertainment Planned For J. O. C. Class Members

Dolly Madison and her official family request your presence at a reception in the White House to meet the President," stated invitations recently received by members of the J. O. C. class of the First Baptist church, and response to those invitations on Monday night gave the members the most interesting evening imaginable.

"The White House" was none other than the cozy little white home of Mrs. M. M. Holmes, 903 North Sycamore street, and the distinguished "First Ladies of the Land" receiving the guests, Dolly Madison, Martha Washington, Frances Cleveland, Edith Roosevelt and Lou Henry Hoover were in reality, Mesdames Fred Cole, Carl Ward, J. P. Williams, Miss Grace Roberts and the hostess, Mrs. Holmes. The "President" honored by this group, was truly a president, Miss Little E. Bartels, national president of the organization. Miss Bartels was down from her Los Angeles home for the occasion, accompanied by Miss Pearl Brooks of Alhambra, first vice president; Miss Vera Coles, Alhambra, national treasurer, and Miss Mary Knapp, Los Angeles, national organizer. They were presented by Miss Lula Minter, local president, and each in turn gave a short talk on her activities, which constituted the formal program of the evening. Miss Brooks, whose vice president duties include that of being national devotion leader, directed the devotional period.

The program was succeeded by a lively hour during which Mrs. Holmes, still in her role of Dolly Madison, introduced some amusing games which in turn yielded interest to the refreshment hour shared by 38 members and guests, all enthusiastic about their White House reception.

Pocahontas Lodge
The Pocahontas lodge gave a card party Monday evening in the Redmen hall on East Fourth street where 500 was played. High scores were awarded Mrs. Nellie Dunsdon of Garden Grove, and Mr. Croxon of Pomona, while low scores went to Mrs. Florence Mackel of Orange and Clem Abbott of Pomona. The door prize was won by Mrs. Violet Stockton of Pomona.

Refreshments of salad, sandwiches and coffee were served by Mrs. Maynard Thorpe and Frank Thorpe.

WEST COAST TO STAGE FASHION REVUE 2 DAYS

A gigantic musical and fashion revue with 12 girls dressed in latest fashion from Santa Ana stores will be an added attraction on the stage of the Fox West Coast theater Saturday and Sunday, Norman Sprowl, Fox theater manager here, announced today.

The models, all experts, will not be the usual type of models seen in fashion shows. It was explained, instead they will go through dances and song numbers in regular vaudeville style.

Clothes from the Happy Day Shop and the Nadine Shop will be exhibited on the models.

The revue or fashion show will be a part of the stage production for the week end, it was announced, there being five other acts, including "The Wranglers," one of the best quartet acts on the Pacific Coast and one that has played here before.

On the screen will be seen "Men On Call," starring Edmund Lowe, Warren Hymer and Mae Clark. It is a Fox picture, its plot based on the life of coast guardsmen.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, April 9.—According to Margaret E. Livingston, county librarian, the county library service installed in the Capistrano union high school is growing in favor. More use is being made each year of county library books.

A check-up during spring vacation showed that there were, at the beginning of the year, 1946 books in the library. During the two-thirds of the current school year, just closed, 146 supplementary texts were sent, and 89 home reading books delivered. Total number of books returned was 266.

San Juan Capistrano has a very complete and well arranged library and reading room, housed in the union high school building. It is open to the public at all times for research. Miss Hazel Guilbert acts as librarian.

STUDY OF RINGWORM SHOWS WAY TO STOP "ATHLETE'S FOOT"

Perhaps you are one of the ten million people in America today who are victims of the infection commonly called "Athlete's Foot"—and don't know what ails you!

Known by several different names, this vexing disease is an insidious form of ringworm. When first contracted it produces a general itching condition. The toes blister, the skin between them turns red or sometimes white. It may become moist and thick or develop a scaly dryness.

If you notice any of these symptoms, take no chances of serious infection. Apply ABSORBINE JR. at once and freely, as recommended by specialists.

For after careful tests of this strange disease, a famous New York laboratory found that this mild, soothing, yet powerful, antiseptic is especially deadly to the trichophyton germs which cause "Athlete's Foot."

It is wise to use ABSORBINE JR. after every exposure to wet surfaces—in public places and even in your own bathroom. For the tiny parasites breed and lurk simply everywhere, and are always ready to attack. At all drug stores, $1.25. W. F. Young, Inc., Springfield, Mass.

PARFAY, Blended Shortening, Wins Acclaim of California Women

Forty Prominent Homemakers Write Symposium of Praise
for Swift & Company's New Product

California women are the most discriminating judges of food products to be found anywhere. That is why Swift & Company selected this state for the introduction of their new blended shortening, Parfay. Six months ago the new product was introduced for the first time in California, following several years' research and tests in the Swift laboratories in Chicago. A recent survey to determine consumer's acceptance of the new product during the introductory period revealed that Parfay has been used in more than 200,000 California homes, establishing a record for new product merchandising in the state.

Parfay has won the acclaim not only of chefs, bakers and home economists but of thousands of California housewives. So enthusiastic have California women been about the new product that Swift & Company have launched an extensive advertising campaign written by women who have used the product. Forty prominent women have collaborated in writing this tribute to Parfay. Each of them discuss some distinct feature of the shortening, detailing her own experience in various uses—baking, frying and shortening. Among the qualities discussed are high smoke point, the bland and neutral flavor, purity, keeping qualities, creaming quality and its quality of making springy dough, so important in turning out tender, flaky pastry.

The statements are reprinted in a series of advertisements with photographs of the women. The campaign opens with a statement from Mrs. George F. Pennebaker, whose enthusiasm for the product inspired the following comment:

"Just one cake convinced me! I was skeptical. How COULD my cakes be any lighter—any more fine-grained—any easier to make! I thought I had them down to a science. But I gave Parfay a chance anyway. And with just one cake I was COMPLETELY won over!"

Hollywood Star Tells Kitchen Secrets

Mitzi Green delights in being "mother's helper" in the kitchen. She is particularly fond of

APPLE DUMPLING

2 cups flour	¾ or 1 cup milk
4 teaspoons baking powder	Melted butter
½ teaspoon sugar	Cinnamon
4 tablespoons Parfay	Sugar
3 or 4 apples

Sift together dry ingredients of flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Work in Parfay with tips of fingers—add to the mixture between ¾ to 1 cup milk to form soft dough. Toss out on a well floured board and pat into a rectangle about ½ inch thick. Brush with melted butter, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Chop 3 or 4 apples medium fine and spread on the dough. Roll it up like a jelly roll, cut it into individual portions and bake in a pan that has been well greased with Parfay. Leave plenty of space between the dumplings. Bake about 40 minutes.

This new blended shortening creams so quickly—makes such feathery light cakes every time

"I WAS skeptical. How could my cakes be any lighter—any more fine-grained—any easier to make! I thought I had them down to a science. But I gave Parfay a chance anyway. And with just one cake I was completely won over!"

Thousands of other California women have put Parfay to the test in just this way. Some with pastry—some with biscuits—some with fried things. Most of them are just a little baffled. Parfay's best point is hard to decide. But there's one thing they've all discovered. That this new shortening is ideal!

We want you to test Parfay without mercy. Cream it instantly for a fluffy cake. Find out if its flaky pastry deserves the fame it's won. Be strict with your frying tests. We know you'll find that Parfay does everything just perfectly!

Late News From Orange County Communities

Brea Chamber Asks Employers To Favor Americans

RESOLUTIONS TO BE GIVEN ALL ORGANIZATIONS

BREA, April 9.—Adoption of a resolution on employment of citizen labor in Orange county, particularly in the various branches of the citrus industry, marked the meeting of Brea Chamber of Commerce yesterday, held in the Olson and Dyer cafe. The resolution, drafted by a committee from the chamber, was read by the chairman of that committee, H. M. Massey. Copies of the resolution will be sent to the various chambers of the county as well as to other civic organizations and delegates from the Brea chamber will visit these bodies in an effort to secure the support and co-operation necessary to the success of the movement. The resolution urges that Americans be employed instead of aliens.

Massey, chairman of the program, presented George Henigan Jr., student at the Brea-Olinda union high school, who delivered the address which he will give in the oratorical contest to be held at the Excelsior high school tomorrow night, when high schools of Orange and Los Angeles counties will compete for honors. The address had to do with the maintenance of the constitution of the United States and was well delivered and well written.

Jack Phillips, reporting for the committee having in hand certain attempted revisions in the present schedule of the Motor Transit company, stated that two slight changes had been made. A later evening bus will be added, leaving Los Angeles at 8:30 p. m. and arriving here at 9:45 p. m. A bus will leave Brea for Los Angeles at 10:16 p. m. While these changes are acceptable as a slight alleviation of the difficulties of evening transportation, the greatest need of change lies in the early morning schedule, it was stated. At present the earliest southbound bus leaves Brea at 7:10 a. m. and L. A. Hogue, chairman of the committee, declared that this will work a hardship on many men and women employees of citrus packing houses and other industries who find need of being at their work at 7 o'clock sharp. A further effort will be made to secure the much-desired change in the morning schedule, Hogue stated.

President Harlan LeGros announced that Leon Whitsell, member of the state railroad commission, will be the speaker at next week's meeting of the chamber. Whitsell will speak on the limitations and the duties of the commission. Members of the Placentia and Yorba Linda chambers will be invited to hear Whitsell and these bodies are asked to make early reservations with E. M. McDonald, Brea 68.

E. H. Peterkin announced the next meeting of the Imperial Highway association to be held in Corona April 17.

Bob Hanson New Manager of Hotel

SAN CLEMENTE, April 9.—The Associated Hotel company, Trafford Hutson, president, has taken charge of the Hotel San Clemente. Bob Hanson has been appointed manager of the 60-room hotel on Del Mar in the Spanish village and has begun work on a campaign to make his hostelry a mecca for Southern Californians seeking an ideal vacation or week-end abode.

John Fite, of San Clemente, has been appointed night clerk.

PROGRAM ARRANGED BY TUSTIN PLAYERS

This Great Healing Oil Best For Pimples and Skin Troubles

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well.

You've probably been, like a lot of other people, convinced that the only thing to use was an ointment or salve (some of them are very good) but in the big majority of cases these sticky salves simply clog the pores and the condition primarily remains the same.

Go to McCoy Drug Co.—2 Stores—Matter Drug Store or any other good drugstore today and get an original bottle of Moore's Emerald

Oil—an 85 cent bottle lasts 2 weeks.

The very first application will give you relief and a few short treatments will thoroughly convince you that by sticking faithfully to it for a short while your skin troubles will be a thing of the past.

Remember that Moore's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful, penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue and that it must give complete satisfaction or your money cheerfully refunded.—Adv.

HIGHWAY PLAN OUTLINED FOR PLACENTIA C. C.

PLACENTIA, April 9.—A report by Secretary T. E. Pickerill on the success of the Placentia school law and plans for a future main boulevard through Placentia were features of the Chamber of Commerce meeting of that city Tuesday.

Pickerill, who returned from Sacramento last week, stated that the Little bill, which repeals the Craig school law, incorporates all the workable features of that law and in addition eliminates the necessity of applying to the state board of education for permission to withdraw from a high school district, and also eliminates all question of distance, provided the school withdrawing has the necessary valuation and attendance and leaves 20 million valuation and an attendance of 1000 in high school district. Credit was given to Beverly Hills for aid in securing this law, which enables them to withdraw from Los Angeles.

Councilman Andrew Ipsen presented the proposition of opening

Santa Fe east, preferably to the crossing between Placentia and Atwood, thus eliminating two railroad crossings, and making this street a main boulevard to Santa Ana canyon. Santa Fe street will eventually connect with Commonwealth on the west, which is now being opened up through Buena Park to connect with Manchester street in Los Angeles. County Engineer Nat Neff was of the opinion that this should be made a hundred-foot boulevard and Supervisor Schumacher also favored the project.

Acting for John Tuffree of the conservation committee, T. E. Pickerill read a resolution to the effect that Long Beach should be prevented by every means possible from taking water from this basin, and the resolution was endorsed by the chamber.

Money for Water Fight Requested Of City Council

ORANGE, April 9.—E. E. Campbell, of Orange, and J. J. Dwyer, of Anaheim, asked a contribution based on an assessment of acreage included in sub-divisions in the city toward a sum which is being raised toward litigation purposes by the Santa Ana Basin Water Rights Protective association, at a meeting of the city council yesterday.

It was said that the assessment was not asked on land which was irrigated by water companies as the companies have contributed $1000 for this purpose and since 1909 have spent more than $500,000 in protecting water rights.

The money must be raised soon, Campbell said, as he pointed out that the cities were vitally interested and rural districts were equally and vitally affected by the matter.

Campbell explained the steps which must be taken to prevent several concerns from taking water from the Santa Ana river basin. The matter was taken under advisement.

Let's have a change—Elect Frank Besser.—(Adv.)

COUNCIL VIEWS DESIGN OF NEW HIGHWAY SIGN

ORANGE, April 9.—A design for a city sign to be placed near the county hospital was submitted to members of the city council yesterday by the DeCo Advertising company, of Santa Ana. H. E. Mathews, member of the firm, and H. R. Buxton, sales manager, represented the company.

The sign showed an arrow which councilmen pointed out could not be used as if placed one way, it would point to Placentia and if the other way, to Garden Grove.

It was decided to leave the matter of the sign to a committee already appointed.

The design as submitted showed a sign 10 feet in height with 13 inch letters. It was felt that the letters were not large enough. The lettering on the sign included instructions to "Turn Left" over the words U. S. 101. Underneath were the names of the cities, Orange and San Diego.

The price set on the sale of the

TEA ENJOYED BY MEMBERS OF GUILD

77 CATERPILLAR TRACTORS

Now on the Irvine Ranch

IF SOMEONE told you that there are now three score and seventeen tractors operating on a famous ranch in Southern California, and that all these tractors are of the same make, it would not be necessary for you to ask what kind of tractors they are. You would know without asking that the only tractors which are worthy of such a record are "Caterpillar" Tractors.

Why This Marked Preference?

Mr. C. J. Cogan in a letter to Shepherd Tractor & Equipment Co., gives these reasons why he uses "Caterpillar" Tractors exclusively for the work on the Irvine Ranch:

"The biggest advantage that 'Caterpillar' Tractors offer us is that they do not pack the ground. Then, too, with our 'Caterpillars' we can start work several days earlier after a rain or an irrigation than we could otherwise. This permits us to get our crops in and our work done when it should be done. Our 'Caterpillars' have been very reliable and lose very little time. Tracks, from our experience, will last several years, and as you know, some of our 'Caterpillar' Tractors are upward of seven years old, and we work them many more days each year than the average tractor owner. The new tractors we have bought from you recently have many decided improvements in the way of providing comfort for the operator and making steering easier, and we find this means more work done each day. Your service also is excellent."

IF YOU have already had experience with "Caterpillar" Tractors, you are familiar with their superior advantages. But in case you do not know the many benefits of "Caterpillar" ownership, you can profit from the experience of others.

"Caterpillar" prices are now remarkably low, offering the greatest dollar-for-dollar value in the history of power machinery. The World's Champion Model Ten is only $1185, DELIVERED HERE. Model Fifteen, illustrated above, is a wonderful buy at $1560. In addition, there are three other models: Model Twenty, $2040; Model Thirty, $2550, and Model Sixty, $4540. All prices quoted include transportation to your place.

Let us show you how you can put a "Caterpillar" to work on your place without paying any finance charges.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAI COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Wee Clowny, sitting in the boat, cried out, "Hey, Tines, please take note that I am rather clever with a paddle in my hand. Real confidence is all you need. Now watch me put on heaps of speed. There's never any trouble when a boat's correctly manned."

And then he started paddling fast and as the little boat whizzed past, the Tines waved and Copy cried, "We must admit you're good. Now, do be careful. Don't get flip or you will make that long boat tip. I guess that all will be all right, if you do as you should."

But Clowny's good luck couldn't last. He started going much too fast and suddenly the boat swerved round. It seemed it would upset. The native, though, was mighty quick. He saved it with a clever trick. And then he made for shore and said, "That's all the ride you get."

The Travel Man said, "Well, real soon we'll take an auto for Rangoon. It's many, many miles from here. 'Twill be a real nice ride. And so, before the end of the day, the bunch were on their merry way. Along the road, not far off, quite a pretty sight was spied.

It was a cart. Within it sat some natives. Carpy tipped his hat and said, "Where are you bound for? Maybe I could ride with you." "We're natives," came the quick reply. "There may be room here. You can try. Just hop right in and sit real still. That's all you have to do."

So Carpy, acting brave and bold, ran up and did as he was told. Two oxen were hitched to the cart. They traveled rather slow. Then to the others Carpy cried, "Just follow me upon this ride." And, as the cart and auto moved he shouted, "Here we go!" (Copyright, 1931, NEA Service, Inc.)

Missing Letter Links

RULES:

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE-TIE-PIE-PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

Former Governor Of Oklahoma Lost Contest For Mayor

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 9.—(UP)—As a defeated candidate in Oklahoma City's mayoralty election, John C. "Jack" Walton was thrust back yesterday into the political oblivion from which he sought to emerge after his impeachment as governor.

By a plurality of nearly 8000 votes, Clarence J. Binn, 44, an attorney, defeated Walton in yesterday's election.

Semi-official tabulations, with only one precinct box lacking, were announced as follows when the clerk's office closed last night: Binn, 25,168; Walton, 16,291.

The campaign for mayor was Walton's biggest attempt at a political comeback since he was ousted from the governor's chair in 1923.

Let's vote for Frank Besser—city recorder next Monday.—(Adv.)

NICHOLAS LONGWORTH

Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the House of Representatives and probably the second most powerful man in position in the United States, died this morning.

There will be many eulogies upon Mr. Longworth, and now that he has gone, the inclination is to remember the fine things in his life and forget the others. Mr. Longworth was able, affable, loyal to his friends, a strict disciplinarian from the standpoint of party organization, a hard and conscientious worker, and one who always worked for the love of the work, not needing to do it to earn a livelihood.

Longworth made and retained friends. He did this because of his nature. When he did take a position antagonistic to one, he did it quietly and unassumingly, and not with that vociferousness which challenges enmity and opposition. He was a talented man, and could entertain, being an artist on the violin, piano and pipe organ. He never took life, to say the least, too seriously, and was undisturbed in those times of apparent catastrophe which might affect others.

The particular interests outside of parties and entertainment which engaged Mr. Longworth's attention were those things which were agreed upon by the party organization. He would do anything for a friend that did not interfere with his obligations to the group. There is no particular outstanding cause related to the public, for which he was an advocate and contender, but he was a good man in rounding up and carrying out what he believed to be the wishes of those in power and control.

He was thoroughly trained in this from the beginning of his political life in Cincinnati, for he came into political activity under a regime of one man control in that city, and a man whose hand to a very considerable extent was upon the entire state. This was a man known as "Boss" Cox,—George B. Cox, of Cincinnati. While Cox was a notorious character himself, a keeper of a saloon, he was absolute dictator of the political life of the city, and frequently of the conventions of his state. He chose as his instruments to do his will, men of much finer character and greater training than himself, and among these was Nick Longworth.

It was as state Senator in Ohio, carrying out quietly and unobtrusively the wishes of his superior that Nick Longworth received considerable of his training in political organization. Undoubtedly at the beginning he received some support by reason of his marriage to Alice Roosevelt, the daughter of the President, but his insistent adherence to the conservative, if not the reactionary group, lost him this support, and particularly when he refused to support his father-in-law in the famous campaign of 1912.

Nicholas Longworth was not a statesman in any sense of the term. While he was in the position of speaker, he was placed there by the hands of others. He was one of those followers whom those behind him can afford to put in the lead of the processions, friendly, always well dressed, dignified when required and adaptable to any occasion. He leaves a place vacant for which it will be difficult to find a man who can more graciously fill than did Nick Longworth.

REQUIRES SOME THOUGHT

The campaign here in the city is becoming in some particulars more intense. We would caution the voters against stories and innuendoes concerning candidates and attitudes of men on all sides.

It is just and right that the voters should learn everything concerning candidates, for sometimes things are not what they appear upon the surface. Men have a right to run for public office with the confidence that their support is insured just in proportion as they are capable and that their record is such that it is worthy of support. Cliques and professional political groups should not be permitted to determine for the voters the candidates for whom they should stand, for when this is done, it places all other men and possible candidates under a paralysis, for the best men will not run if this must be done, and it establishes political control in the hands of such a group.

As far as the voters can do so, they should elect public servants who are capable, fair, unbossed and unbossable, who are running by their own feet and with the brains that will govern them under their own hats.

DOES ANY COLLEGE WANT IT?

A prominent citizen of Massachusetts, for some years Attorney General of the state, identified with any of its educational institutions, and highly respected, left a legacy of $25,000 to any college provided such college would combat the growth of feminism in the country. The bequest has been declined by Harvard, Yale, Princeton and Columbia. There may be some college in the country that would accept the bequest with that condition, but we do not know of any such college.

What curious quirks some otherwise sane and intelligent people want to perpetuate through the ages. The power of the dead hand still holds back the progress of the world in many spheres, but fortunately that power is lessening. Some years ago a woman's college in the East was left a large bequest on condition that it would forever abolish competitive athletics. The college needed the money badly, but declined it.

The whole tendency in the world is against permitting the dead hand to rule. It is a bit of presumption for any man who has had his own fling once in life to deny the same privilege to others who are to live after, and yet how natural it is that a man who believes in something as being essentially evil and destructive should want to exercise his power to prevent it after he goes. As a matter of fact, we shall have to trust the coming generation to act wisely or foolishly, for it is they who will reap the reward or suffer the penalty. The trouble with the world, said an eminent sociologist not long ago, is that those who are going to the devil are not going fast enough.

No father or mother has a right to a second chance to live his or her life by living it through their children. Even so wise and intelligent man as the one who made the above-mentioned provision in his will should have recognized that. If he had, his $25,000 would not have gone begging in the world. Wouldn't it be strange if the residuary legatee should be a woman who was a strong advocate of feminism? With an unholy glee we hope it may be so.

Back With Trophies

Oakland Tribune

Upon every continent and many isles in the sea field expeditions of the Smithsonian Institution touched during the past year. The annual report which is released today and carries illustrations becomes more exciting than fiction and in its variety is no less than astounding. The scientists studied everything from radiation of the sun to Eskimo culture; fossil horses in Idaho to the birds of Spain and brought back with them large collections of exhibits to be placed in the U. S. National Museum.

Up in the Kuskokwim river region in Alaska, in an area never before visited by a physical anthropologist, Dr. Ales Hrdlicka studied the ancient and modern Eskimo population. He says the Eskimo is not dying out but is mixing with white blood and in all probability no pureblood Eskimo will be born a century from now.

It was in Idaho Doctor J. W. Gidley found bones of hundreds of animals mostly belonging to an extinct species of horse. Because he found fossils of the rare Plesiosaurus, animal intermediate between the present-day horse and the three-toed horse of more ancient times, this is considered one of the most important paleontological discoveries of recent years.

Interesting to the naturalist was the work done by Lieut. Henry C. Kellers, U. S. N., on Minatou, or "Tin-Car" Island in the South Seas. The shores are so precipitous that mail is delivered from steamers by hoisting it in a tin can and hurling in the water where native swimmers pick it up. On this island Kellers found the "melau," a small bird which lays large eggs and buries them from three to six feet deep in the ash hills of the island. When the bird hatches out, it scratches its way to the surface.

Three of twenty-nine separate expeditions, these suggest some of the romance and adventure which may accompany the men of science.

A Boy Hero

Oakland Tribune

Millions of persons who never saw him, and never expect to, will wish Bryan Untiedt, aged 13, all the joys a boy may expect in a trip from Colorado to Washington to see the President of the United States.

Bryan, recovering from his heroic experiences in a snow storm, naturally looks forward to this new adventure as a lad who is told a fairy story may come true. He is the one who was left in charge when the driver of the school bus went out into the blinding storm on a fruitless and fatal search for help. He kept the rest of the children moving that they might not fall asleep and freeze, burned their schoolbooks in an improvised fire, and while the snow whirled in through broken windows, he peeled off most of his clothing and gave it to the smaller children.

Bryan Untiedt is a hero. In those long hours in the cold he organized wrestling matches and when the tired and despairing little boys and girls turned from that, he provoked fights. Anything to keep them moving, to prevent them from freezing.

He had to slap his companions to make them angry. "I was sorry," he said later, "but it had to be done."

Doctors say all the children who were rescued will recover and that no amputations will be necessary. Bryan Untiedt has been recommended for the Carnegie medal and a President who has a great interest and love for children has written him a letter inviting him to go to Washington. In a long time no more worthy candidate for the hero's medal has come to public notice.

No More "Sticks" So Broadway Is Informed

San Bernardino Sun

When the great Roxy got back to New York recently after a trip that took him from Atlanta to Minneapolis and elsewhere, he had a message for his fellow New Yorkers. He told them that there is a "Broadway" in every city he visited, that there were no "sticks" and no "hayseeds" any more west of the Hudson river.

The people who exist somehow outside the metropolises are just like those in Manhattan. "They talk the same language, wear the same clothes and sing the same songs." They are just as smart.

His observations may be taken as complimentary or a little depressing, according to the viewpoint. They are probably fairly true. Movie, radio, book clubs, automobiles, good roads and the touring habit have been doing a great job of standardizing. We vary a little, still in our preferences for scenery. Some of us like tall buildings and some like mountains or prairies. On the whole, however, we've become as like as peas in a pod. What of it? Who knows?

More Truth Than Poetry

AMBITION

I would not be an autocrat;
I never nursed the aim
To gloat while people trembled at
The mention of my name.
No tyrant's throne I hope to hold,
Their jobs they swiftly lose,
And other men more base and bold
Step up and fill their shoes.

The woolsock tempts me not a whit,
Though justices have power
While, frowning on the bench they sit,
To make men cringe and cower.
But though his learning is replete
And none may say him nay
The wisest judge can lose his seat
The next election day.

I would not even be a King,
His life is one long grind;
His sceptre he can seldom swing
In easy peace of mind.
Great crowds forever follow him,
He seldom is alone,
And he must keep his throat in trim
For speeches from the throne.

Were I allowed to have my choice,
I'd choose a sterner job,
And every accent of my voice
Would terrify the mob.
When rich or poor caught sight of me
In fear their jaws would drop,
Their cheeks would blanch, for I would be
A motorcycle cop.

NOT ENOUGH

A motor fuel has been invented that will not knock. But what we are looking for is one that will boost.

SIGNIFICANT SILENCE

Until Sinclair Lewis writes another book he will stand convicted of abating his hostility to America.

SUGGESTION

If Mr. Raskob expects to sell his Democratic Party he had better set out a new model.

When Doctors Disagree

An educated person is one who knows a good man when he sees one. This seems to be the best definition in a thousand arid volumes on pedagogy.

The definition applies especially to the citizen as a voter. His education should enable him to know a competent expert when he sees one.

If all the so-called experts agreed, choosing among them would not be so difficult. But they agree about as amiably as midnight cats on a back-yard fence.

In England, for example, the recent broadcast by Expert John Maynard Keynes, on the necessity for larger public expenditures, resulted in the "Friends of Economy Campaign." In London, the expert head of the largest bank urged the people to spend more, while on the same day the expert head of the next largest bank urged them to spend less. Expert Lloyd George would rescue British industry through great national loans. Expert Sir Ernest Bunn says that nothing worse could happen. Expert Seebohm Rowntree insists that the only way back to prosperity is reduced wages, while the Labor Party experts reply that the only hope is increased wages. Thus, abroad as well as at home, the learned economic doctors disagree.

Sir Josiah Stamp concludes that "our civilization is in danger, the only thing that can save it is right thinking about economics."

The right thinking, let us add here, must extend to the average citizen, in order that he may know a competent expert when he sees one on the ballot. The chief purpose of elementary education in any art or science is to enable the layman to make effective use of experts.

O, scarcely 2 minnits from here, the lady sed, and I sed, All right. Thinking, Gosh, a dime.

And I went up the steps and handed her pops umbrella and she opened it and came down the steps under it and started to keep on going with me wawking in back of her under my umbrella, thinking, G, good nite look wich way she's going, I hope she dont wawk pass Wites drug store.

Being just what she went and did with me still in back of her, and pop was standing inside the door looking out through the glass, and he saw me wawking pass instead of wawking in, and he started to make sines and I quick pointed at the lady under his umbrella and kepp on wawking after her under my own, and it was the biggest 3 minnits away I ever saw, being more like 10, and she gave me the dime and went in her house and I hurry up ran back to Wites drug store, saying to pop, G wize, pop, she asked me to lend her the umbrella, I couldn't tell her I wouldnt, could I?

What price gallantry? pop sed, and I sed, Sir? and he sed, How much did she give you?

Sir? A dime, I sed, and pop sed, That's just what I'm going to charge you for the privilege of escorting me home. Hand it over, he sed.

Wich I did, and when we got home pop made me get my bank, saying, Now, just for punishment I'm going to make you save it. And he dropped the dime in, not being as bad as not having it at all but seeming almost worse.

In the Long Ago

From The Register Files
14 Years Ago Today

APRIL 9, 1917

Miss Cora Keesch is home from Inglewood, where she teaches, for the Easter vacation.

John A. Harvey, I. M. Doyle and Louis A. Copeland have taken over the First National Bank stock owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Newland and Charles H. Howard, thus giving Santa Ana controlling interest in the bank.

Conservative estimates place the value of the Orange county cabbage crop this season at $100,000, this sum to be received for between 500 and 600 cars.

Another of the many indications that Santa Ana is continuing its rapid growth is contained in the fact that receipts at the post office are steadily increasing.

The shopping of the crop of navel oranges is complete and the next month or six weeks will be a quiet time around the Tustin packing houses.

Mrs. Ana Hoffman entertained yesterday afternoon with a party in honor of the fourth birthday of her daughter, Eunice.

TWO KINDS OF CAPITALISTS

A radical friend of mine has just left my library.

We talked long about the current economic situation.

As we talked, he returned again and again to a vigorous denunciation of the "big capitalists" as the creators of all our troubles.

He is, I think, an admirable illustration of a kind of thinking, all too prevalent in radical and liberal circles, that has let events move past it without troubling to check up on the changes that have taken place during the last few years.

I hold no brief for the long array of policies that have marked the capitalistic enterprise of the last quarter century; many of these policies have been shortsighted and are now proving, by the balance sheet, that they were from the start not good business; but my radical friend's indiscriminate denunciation of the "big capitalists" is, I suggest, equally shortsighted.

A clear, cold analysis of the forces now at work in the American economic system, in so far as there is a system, makes it clear that we cannot lump all capitalists together.

There are the big capitalists.

There are the small capitalists.

Radicalism and liberalism have long leveled their lances against the big capitalists and set out to fight for the small business man.

But the fact is, unless I am far afield in judgment, that the biggest stumbling-block in the path of creative progress towards economic stability and widespread prosperity is not the big capitalists but the small capitalists.

The big capitalists are thinking more realistically than either the small capitalists or the liberals themselves.

The conservatism that turns its face away from fundamental change, seen so much in regional and national associations of business men, is the conservatism of the small capitalists.

The really big capitalists who are forced to see the full implications of the current world situation are being led by the logic of events into a realistic radicalism of planning that is today leagues ahead of the thinking of the average small business man and small industrialist and small banker.

The next big liberal movement in politics and economics may well find some big capitalists in its forefront.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI
A DAY OFF

Mother's work is taken too much for granted. The members of the family who leave the house to go to work come home weary and ready to rest. The close of the day seems to them a respite from labor. They take their slippers off with book or game in the conscious righteousness that comes of knowing a day's work well done.

But Mother? She is still on duty. Aside from the fact that she has been taking care of the baby all day, doing the marketing, the cooking, the cleaning and mending, she is expected to make home pleasant for the day-enders.

Much of it cannot be helped, perhaps. The modern machinery does lighten labor, but it does not ease the strain that year-long terms of service impose upon mothers. The only way out is for Mother to take her day off no matter what comes or goes.

This requires some management and self control on Mother's part. She will have to arrange the household machinery so that it can go on without her for an afternoon each week, or a whole day, if that can be worked. This time off is the promise of salvation to the working mother.

When you look at something steadily and intently for any length of time you lose sight of it altogether. You have no perspective on it, you get it out of proportion. One must never stay too close to the object of his life work lest he become insensible to it and so spoil it. This is the danger many mothers run daily.

"How can I get away? This child needs to be watched every minute of the day. He's into everything."

Leave him alone for five minutes and he will do more mischief than can be repaired in five years. I don't know what I'm going to do with him. He has me about frantic most of the time."

It is not the child that is all wrong. Because she has stayed too close to him, been too much with him, without relief, without rest and recreation, she has lost all perspective and thinks he is a bad child.

Let this mother go out for the day and forget all about this child. Go to an art gallery, to a concert, have a game of golf, a ride, a drive, a trip into the suburbs, a visit with an old friend—whatever relief her heart desires, and when she returns this child will be all that is lovely and cherishable.

How is that to be done? Any mother who wants to find a way can do so. One can always do what one wants to do in such matters by a little adjusting here and there. Train grandmother, or aunt, or grandpa, or uncle, or old servant, or old friend, somebody to be trusted, so he can take that child in charge for the day.

Do not worry about what will happen to him that day. Children can stand a lot of experience on way and another.

They enjoy meeting new people, finding new ways of doing new things. The day off will benefit the child as well as the mother. For the mother it is essential.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

SEIZURE OF WAR SHIPS

On April 9, 1917, United States customs officials seized 14 Austrian merchant ships in American ports after news was flashed from Washington that a formal break had come between this country and Austria-Hungary.

The ships taken were at New York, Boston, New Orleans, Pensacola, Galveston, Newport, Philadelphia and Tampa, and their total tonnage was 67,897 gross.

As was the case with German ships seized the previous week, the machinery in most of them had been damaged. Explaining the status of the ships in a statement issued at Washington, Secretary of Treasury McAdoo said that the government had not confiscated the vessels but had acted for the purpose of protecting them "from further injury." The officers and crews of the ships were taken into custody by the department of labor.
